

Sutton Greenshirts Win Game After Game

Oakwood Stands Up To Sutton Pace For First Period Only

By CHARLES E. CUNNINGHAM

Sutton's Intermediate B. Greenshirts chalked up their fifth victory of the season, handing Oakwood a 9-4 defeat at the Sutton arena on Friday evening. A good crowd was on hand to watch their favorite Greenshirts match stride for stride the well-coached Oakwood crew during the earlier part of the game and then forge ahead in the last period to take a decisive verdict. During the first period, play was fast and furious, ranging from one end to the other in quick succession with both goalies being called upon to make some remarkable saves. Sutton's first string forward line of Milroy, Pearsall and Carpenter were in rare form and finally, at the 18-minute mark, Milroy flicked the red light for the first goal to bring plenty of cheers from the Sutton supporters. The period ended with Sutton nursing a 1-0 lead.

The second period opened with the Greenshirts putting forth a strong offensive effort, and aided by a penalty to Oakwood, Carpenter banged the puck in the net to increase the lead. Shupe received a penalty for boarding and Oakwood retaliated a minute later, during a scramble in front of the Sutton net.

Brady, Cooke and Cornish, Sutton's second string forwards, held up the reputation of their teammates and finally bulged the twine behind the Oakwood goalie, Brady firing the fatal shot. Burkholder got the nod from the referee for tripping and Oakwood pressed hard, but while they were putting on a ganging attack, Milroy hooked the puck away and raced through the entire team to flash the red light for the fourth goal for the home-owners. The bell rang with no further scoring in this period.

Play resumed for the third period with the home team carrying the play, but Oakwood was the first to draw blood. Pearsall, assisted by Milroy, added another to the Sutton total.

On one of Oakwood's attacks, a puck was deflected into the Sutton net, coming as a surprise to Smith who didn't see the shot. However, to make up for the gifted goal the Greenshirts went to work and before the final gong had sounded, Milroy had added two more and Pearsall had also gained a couple with only one reply from the visitors. The final score read 9-4 for the highly rated Suttonites.

Newmarket Band Attends Brick Pouring In Quebec

Andrew Davis Takes Citizens' Band To East Malarctic Mine

Members of the Newmarket Citizens' Band attended the ceremony of pouring the first gold brick at East Malarctic mine, northern Quebec, on Saturday afternoon.

They were the guests of Andrew J. Davis, Newmarket, president of East Malarctic. The Newmarket party included Robert Moore, instructor of the band, Art West, orchestra leader, Stanley Smith, and A. C. West. Twenty-seven bandmen took the trip. Aubrey Davis of Newmarket was present.

The party left by train from Mount Albert on Friday night and spent Saturday at East Malarctic. The band played as the train pulled in at the camp.

The band played during the day for the miners and visiting officials and for a banquet on

Harvey Gibney Pastes In Three Goals In Fight-Game

By LORNE MCCORDICK

Sparked by Bill Roberts and Harvey Gibney, Newmarket Redmen defeated Beaverton Intermediates 6-4 last Thursday, to win their first game of the hockey season.

Husky Bill Roberts, playing his first home game with Newmarket, added the necessary fighting spark to his team-mates which had been sadly lacking in previous games this year.

Harve Gibney, turning in his smoothest performance of the year, notched three of the winners' goals.

For the first time in many a moon, the fans were treated to a game in which the Redmen displayed overwhelming supremacy in every period.

The tricky passing attacks of the locals had Beaverton hemmed in their own end of the rink for much of the initial frame. A triple passing play at the six-minute mark culminated in a goal by Brammer. Harve Gibney increased the locals' lead to 2-0 a few minutes later, banging home a loose puck.

Beaverton rallied near the end of the period and pure mischance prevented a possible score. In a wild old melee in front of the Newmarket nets, the puck bounded out to an uncovered Beaverton forward. But with three Beaverton players as well as Peters piled up in the net, there was not a single air-hole through which the puck could be forced in.

SHOW MOVIE IN TRINITY UNITED CHURCH JAN. 27

In Trinity United church, Newmarket, on Friday, Jan. 27, at 8 p.m., a movie film of conditions in China will be shown by C. S. Brace of Toronto, who recently returned from China where he was in the employ of the government of Chiang Kai-shek, and has some thrilling experiences to relate. Everybody is welcome. Admission 20 cents.

Saturday evening, Art West's orchestra played for a dance after the banquet.

The party went down to the 780-foot level. East Malarctic is down 830 feet. The party also went through the mill and saw the first brick poured.

On Sunday the party went on to Perron, leaving for home Sunday evening. They reached Mount Albert on Monday morning.

TRACTOR SKIDS AND BREAKS YOUTH'S ARM

Douglas Wilson, 18, of King township, was injured last Thursday, when he was struck by a tractor, whose driver had stopped on the road to give him a lift. Thrown into a ditch filled with snow when the tractor skidded, on the fourth concession of King, Wilson suffered a broken arm and cuts. He was attended by Dr. G. D. Lockhart of King City and taken to Toronto for further examination.

TWO DRAWS MARK YOUNGSTERS' HOCKEY

The school kids' league moved into the second chapter last Saturday morning with three more games played.

Leaping Lizards tied Popeye's Gang 1-1. For Leaping Lizards, Watson scored and also drew a penalty. For Popeye's Gang, Mosler scored from the face-off and then Watson tied it up. Mosler drew a penalty in the last period.

In the second game Flying Aces and Lucky Strikes played to a scoreless draw. This was a fast and clean game with no penalties. Groves played a great game in the nets for Lucky Strikes.

In the third game, Shamrocks took the measure of Villains in a 1-0 decision. Burke scored for Shamrocks. MacInnes got two penalties for Shamrocks. Ken McCannan received a penalty for Villains.

Burke would have done more scoring if it had not been for the great goal-tending of Fred Dillman, captain of the Villains.

SHOPWORK IN PRESENT WALLS NOW PROPOSED

Plentiful Praises Bestowed Upon Newmarket High School

Warm praise is given to Newmarket high school and the high school board in a report by Inspector G. L. Gray.

Extracts from the report follow: "The high grading of accommodations is evidence of the excellent fashion in which the school plant is being maintained. The board is to be congratulated on maintaining this high standard. It must react very favorably on the work of teachers and pupils."

"The modernizing of the art room with the provision of excellent desks and storage cabinets is particularly worthy of note. The school has now, for its size, one of the best equipped rooms for the teaching of art in the province. Provision for a supply of water is all that is needed to make it complete."

Equipment is valued as follows: library, $2,053.34; scientific apparatus, $1,996.71; maps, globes, $274.03; art models, $75.71; typewriters, $2,800; biological specimens, $200.57; sports equipment, physical education, $1,419.67; gymnasium, $25,000.

"The wise policy of the board to build up a useful and adequate library through a fixed annual grant is bearing fruit. In addition, the services of a teacher trained in library work have been procured. I was interested to learn that the circulation of the library during the full term was 1,250 books, or an average of approximately four books per pupil. In addition, sets of books and classroom books are in constant use."

"Ratio of pupils to teachers: 331 to 11:30.1 to 1. Division of duties among teachers: satisfactory."

"The principal has built up a satisfactory time-table. Pupils of the lower school have the opportunity of attending."

Newmarket Man Talked To Chile At Time Of Quake

Santiago, Chile, Short-Wave Faded Out At Time Of Quake

Demonstrating his short-wave radio transmitter and receiver to a visitor, Max Boag, Newmarket customs officer, was talking to an English-speaking short-wave man in Santiago, Chile, on Tuesday evening between 11 and 11:30, according to his recollection.

Before he had finished the conversation the Chile station faded out, to Mr. Boag's surprise.

Yesterday came word from Santiago that at 11:34 p.m. Tuesday, an earthquake shook Chile, killing an estimated 2,000 people in one town of 9,000 population. This town would be 220 miles south of Santiago.

Mr. Boag believes that the Santiago station must have dropped out as a result of the earthquake.

ANOTHER NEED OF YORK COUNTY HOSPITAL CITED BY PHYSICIAN, PROVINCIAL LAB PRAISED

A tribute to the provincial department of health was paid by Dr. J. C. R. Edwards, Newmarket physician, this week.

Dr. Edwards told The Era by way of example, that last week he took a sputum specimen from a pneumonia patient one day at 4 p.m., put it on the train to Toronto, the provincial health laboratory picked it up at the Union station at 8 p.m. and at 11 p.m. he received a telephone call telling him the type of pneumonia he had to deal with.

"This wasn't anything exceptional on the part of the department," said Dr. Edwards. "It is done as a matter of routine. The province has an extremely wide-awake public health laboratory."

Dr. Edwards explained that there are 33 types of pneumonia, and that a doctor needs to know which type he is treating. It would be financially impossible, he said, for individual doctors to maintain all the equipment necessary for typing pneumonia, although with a little help from the public or town organizations, a laboratory could be established at York county hospital, and one of the nurses could easily be trained to make the tests. This would give pneumonia patients an even better chance, as frequent tests are a great help to the physician, Dr. Edwards said.

Johnnie Greenwood, familiar to every householder as the diminutive deliverer of advertising bills, and a collector of wastepaper, is seriously ill at York county hospital.

He is suffering from pneumonia. Everything possible is being done for him. He has been

MAYOR WANTS TWO MONTHLY READING AGAIN

Urges Economy On Citizens In Interests Of Law Tax Rate

Mayor Dr. S. J. Boyd read the following prepared statement at the town council meeting Monday evening:

"I am anxious that the council for 1939 will make history and be spoken of in the years to come as the best council Newmarket ever had."

"In order to carry the good-will and confidence of the citizens with us, it is necessary to explain clearly all our actions."

"If we have a clear-cut statement in the papers, it is there for the people to read and much misunderstanding will be avoided."

"I want to go on record and say that a low tax-rate will stimulate building and relieve unemployment. It will be hard to keep the rate down this year on account of the increased high school levy."

"It will help if we carry the electric light in a separate account at the bank. Then the electric light account will carry: cost of power, cost of extensions on the lines, cost of debentures, wages of the men, Mr. Rachar's salary."

"Quite a saving can be effected by reading the meters every two months and the water meters every four months. The savings are: 1, one-half a man's salary per year; 2, only one-half the stationery and stamps will be required to send out the notices; 3, only half the work is required at the office, so no extra help will be needed as at present."

"The change affects the light-users as follows: 1, he makes six trips instead of 12 per year to the office to pay his light bills; 2, although the two-monthly payment is larger, the annual total is less by reason of the savings above mentioned."

"If the citizens of Newmarket want changes that will lower the tax-rate, they will have to get used to the changes."

"I want to get it over to this council and to the citizens that high taxes strangle the building trade and increase unemployment."

"When we hold a tax sale this year, cheap lots will be available. Let us fix the tax rate so low that it will be cheaper for a man to build and own his own home than to live in a rented house. Then citizens who have not a home of their own will begin to save and plan to get one. A little building going on will soon take up all the unemployed in Newmarket who are able to work."

"That statement may be misleading, as we are now on one-monthly readings," said Councillor Arthur Evans, chairman of the water and light committee.

"I have heard a lot of people say they were glad we had gone back to the monthly collection, but I don't know if they are right or not," said Councillor Frank Bowser.

"I know it is easier to collect $1 than $2."

"But we might educate them to the advantages of paying $2 instead of $1," suggested Councillor Joe Spillette.

"I will oppose it," said Councillor Wm. Dixon. "The working-man can't pay two months' bill at once."

"You haven't tried to educate them to the advantages," said Dr. Boyd. "I have convinced all the people who spoke to me about it."

"Yes I have," said Mr. Dixon. "I have told them about the advantages and the disadvantages."

Dr. Boyd asked that the water and light committee bring in a recommendation, "one way or the other," at the next council meeting.

SAVE TIME OF COUNCIL, IS AIM

Saving of the town council's time through the preparation of lists of approved accounts for each councillor and the passing of them whole-sale unless questioned, was recommended by Reeves F. A. Lundy at the town council meeting Monday evening.

Mayor Dr. S. J. Boyd supported this proposal.

Deputy-revee Joseph Vale said that he didn't think that there would be any saving of time.

"My experience is that the closest accounting possible of each individual account is desirable," said Mr. Vale.

It was decided to give the proposal a trial.

M.O.H. Asks Scarlet Fever Toxoid Of All

Two Cases Of Scarlet Fever Reported, Co-operation Asked

"In spite of all the care in watching for scarlet fever cases in our town schools, there are two houses placarded with large cards at the present time, which means that in these houses there are one or more children who are suffering from this communicable disease," stated Dr. J. H. Wesley, M.O.H., this week.

"Naturally we are curious to know where the disease came from but all enquiries have failed to lead to its source. Years ago it was commonly supposed to be carried by a third person to the child or infant. Now the popular idea is that there must have been a mild case of it that has been overlooked, and this is usually the beginning of all epidemics of scarlet fever."

"The severity of the disease varies greatly. The usual symptoms of onset are sore throat, vomiting and fever, followed in the next 24 hours by a fine 'red flannel' rash coming first about the neck and chest. The mild case that slips by unnoticed may have only the one predominant sign, the sore throat and a red rash for a few hours, or even no rash at all. So it is easily overlooked by the parent when the sickness has been so slight and of Page 4, Col. 5

Redmen Invite You To See Them Smash Jinx Monday

Game At Lindsay Is Heart-Breaker As 4-1 Lead Turns To Loss

By DOUG TRIVETT

"Old Man Moss" may be dead in the song but you can never convince the Newmarket Redmen that old man jinx has passed away, for he has dogged their footsteps relentlessly since the season opened and Tuesday night in Lindsay was no exception.

After dominating the play for over two periods and leading 4-1 with 15 minutes left to play, the tide turned suddenly and Lindsay Royals skated off with a 6-4 win after ten minutes of overtime.

The game looked to be in the bag for the locals when Peters, who played a swell game in the nets, let a rather soft one slide off his skate. Bill Roberts then took a very doubtful looking penalty and before he was back the score was tied and the game was into overtime.

The pay-off came five minutes later when Bill Roberts, swinging out in front of his own goal, popped the rubber into his own net and the astonished Bob Peters at once began to consider an offer from a local lumber company to board up his goal on each side of him.

The first period was rather slow and loose play on both teams was evident but after 17 minutes of play, Pete Neufeld was Johnny-on-the-spot to bang in McCabe's rebound for the first country, with Newmarket having an edge in the play.

Eight minutes had elapsed in the second period when Brammer camped in front of the net, batted in the second goal from a scramble, with Neufeld assisting. Lindsay came right back with a nice goal when Nichols, ace right-winger, took a pass from Campbell for their first goal.

The Redmen began to click with their short passing attack and Townsley scored a beautiful goal from Brammer. Thirty seconds later Gibney coasted in for another on a pass-out from Roberts to give the boys a 4-1 lead and a big edge in the play.

Lindsay did all the scoring in the third and had an edge in play but it was five minutes before Campbell scored his soft goal on Page 8, Col. 7

High School Board Needs Advance, First In Years

May Need $10,000 More Than Last Year, Says Deputy-Reeve

The high school board asked $2,500 to carry the school for the present by letter from Allan Mills, secretary, read at a town council meeting Monday evening.

Deputy-Reeve Joseph Vale said: "In other years the high school board has had a surplus. Last year they used up the surplus to pay extra cost as the result of the new legislation. The county used to pay 60 per cent of the cost of the high school. This year the board has no surplus, and we have to borrow money and pay interest on it."

Mr. Vale said that the high school board would have to get $9,000 extra this year instead of the $7,000 which he forecast at the last meeting.

"I don't know what we can do to get redress," said Reeve Fred A. Lundy, later in the meeting.

"If we know we were going back to this system, this high school with the tremendous debt, why never have been undertaken," said Mr. Lundy. "The ratepayers are going to get an awful shock."

"It means four mills," said Deputy-Reeve Joseph Vale.

"The rural townships were being bled," said Mr. Vale. "It should also be remembered that we paid $4,000 less last year to the county for secondary education."

"Then that $4,000 should be offset against the $9,000?" asked Dr. Boyd.

"Yes," said Mr. Vale.

"We will have that $4,000 saving every year," Dr. Boyd said.

"Yes," agreed Mr. Vale.

"It's not quite true that the townships were being bled," said Mr. Lundy. "They stocked around us urging us to build the school. They said that they would gladly pay 60 per cent of the cost."

"Another point is that the debentures were issued on the serial plan, and more of the principal was paid off under the 60 per cent arrangement than would have been with ordinary debentures," said N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk and solicitor.

"We don't care about anything except that we will have to pay $4,000 more this year than last," said Mr. Evans.

WITH FLAME OF FREEDOM

It was a Christmas present. It was a book we had wanted to read and now we have read it and enjoyed it. The book is called "With Flame of Freedom," and is written by Miss Ethel Chapman, formerly assistant superintendent of Ontario Women's Institutes, and now an editor of the Farmer's Magazine, Toronto.

York County Scene?

This is a well-told story, with lots of action and romance, and is good entertainment. There is running throughout a strong flavor of propaganda, and anyone who knows Miss Chapman (and she is so well known in York county that one might suspect that she has taken a good deal of her "Acres county" from good old York) will realize that she wouldn't write a book just to entertain. She is a missionary, a teacher, a propagandist, one who coats pills with sugar. That's why the book is worth reading.

Is the Name Harman?

If one of the characters in this story, Phil Strong, a young farmer promoter of rural education and co-operatives, isn't drawn from King township, we are greatly surprised. The story is an excuse, a lovely excuse, to deal with a succession of social problems.

Problems

We open the book almost anywhere and find a problem being discussed. The problems do not all belong to Geneva. What sort of entertainment is suitable for the annual church supper? What does John see in Adrienne? How do boys learn to say things that make a girl feel she has suddenly turned into a fairy princess? What happens to a farm community when its young people all go away, to go into business and the professions? Why does a farmers' club devolve into an annual oyster supper? Has the child of unmarried parents anything to be ashamed of?

Teaching At $400 A Year

What does the young person do, who has been planning to go to college, when depression hits the old homestead? Does she take a $400 a year school in a backward district. Does she take a better school when the opportunity comes or does she stay where she is needed?

ON THE DESIRABILITY OF BOILING DOWN

Newspapers do a great kindness to politicians when they boil down parliamentary addresses to one-fifth or one-tenth or less of their original length. Reporters learn to leave out what is less interesting. Hansard is not so kind to parliamentarians. Hansard reports the gentlemen verbatim and in extenso. Hansard doesn't leave out the repetitions, the stunts, the smallnesses, the less successful attempts to be clever, the contradictions. If Hansard were mailed to every citizen of this great country, we believe that this great country would have a more rapid turn-over of public men. Only the occasional man of silence, the Calvin Coolidge, or he of great wisdom and worth would long survive the ballots.

Cruelty of Hansard

We have been reading from Hansard the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne, and what we read was not, to our mind, a credit to either of the two old party leaders. Both made terribly long speeches, at the public expense, without saying anything of importance. Both wasted time quoting from books written by the other (both Mr. King and Dr. Manion are authors). In Dr. Manion's favor we remember that it was his first experience as leader of the opposition. His main purpose was to show that Mr. King had not kept many of his promises in 1935. Dr. Manion said a couple of times that Mr. King's book, with his 1935 promises, had almost caused him to die of laughter. Mr. King pretended that Dr. Manion had been chiding him for his interest in the poor and humble, when Dr. Manion really had been saying that he (Mr. King) was out of touch with the common people, and feelingly quoted his grandfather, William Lyon Mackenzie, to show that his family had been interested in the lowly for generations back.

Just Politics

Dr. Manion's speech may have been effective in parliament, that is, it may have made Mr. King's ears red, his followers embarrassed and the Conservatives gleeful, but as read from Hansard, it was much inferior to Mr. King's speech, and Mr. King's speech was a very smoothly-worded speech about nothing of real moment to the unemployed, the downtrodden, the struggling farmer or the poor. Neither Mr. King nor Dr. Manion revealed any plans or ideas for the up-building of this country. It is easy to see why party loyalty is on the decrease, when the parties are led by men who are more concerned about leading their parties to victory than they are about leading their country out of the valley of economic bondage. We can't help admiring those men for the personal qualities which have carried them into positions of great responsibility and opportunity, but we can't help regretting that they do not happen to have the reform zeal of such unsuccessful leaders as Mackenzie and Papineau.

BY WAY OF TRIBUTE TO MR. BENNETT

Now that Rt. Hon. Richard Bedford Bennett has passed from active Canadian politics, it is easier to say a kind word for him. Of course, we realize that there are many writers who never had any difficulty about saying kind words for Mr. Bennett, but this writer was not one of them. It has always been an effort and we will tell you how our prejudice originated. We first became aware of Mr. Bennett as a student at Dalhousie university at the time in 1927 when Mr. Bennett was chosen as leader of the Conservative party. As Mr. Bennett had graduated from Dalhousie law school, we were all very proud of him. He accepted an invitation at that time to give an address at Dalhousie, and we were all impressed with his wonderful personality. His voice had a winning, warming emotional quality which won his audience completely. He was a great orator. But university students are critical, and many of us were disappointed. We had expected Mr. Bennett to say something of importance, and we found that he had not. We were left with the impression that he had delivered a rather egotistical speech, on the theme of how he had become a great man. We felt that he had the personal charm and the oratorical ability to carry him into high places, but that he did not have any important ideas to contribute when he did reach the prime minister's office.

Back In 1939

In the summer of 1930, the writer happened to be unemployed in the city of Toronto. The famous Dunnington budget increasing the British preference had made quite an impression on this youthful mind, filled with university ideas of the desirability of freedom of trade. Mr. Bennett with his promise to "blast a way into the markets of the world" was going in the very face of everything our university economics professors and text-books had taught us. We heard him give a short speech in Toronto, a non-political speech at the Sir John A. MacDonald memorial in Queen's Park early in 1930 and heard a lady say, as she came away, that it was the greatest speech she had ever heard. Frankly, we were disappointed with the result of the 1930 election, which meant higher tariffs and, in our opinion, would accentuate the depression. We bear in mind, of course, that those high tariffs enabled Mr. Bennett to secure in 1932 the splendid Ottawa agreements with the Empire countries.

Just An Incident

While employed by a Toronto newspaper which had not been very friendly to Mr. Bennett the writer had occasion to ask him one day in Hamilton if he would be kind enough to permit our photographer to take his picture. He said: "I do not care to be photographed, thank you." He was polite, but oh so final and so cold. He was the first public man from whom we had not had friendly treatment as a reporter regardless of the policies of the newspaper we happened to be working for.

Too Late

We continued to admire Mr. Bennett's gifts and to disapprove of his economic policies. His reform speeches and reform legislation of 1935 aroused our enthusiasm, but we couldn't help thinking, with an election coming, that it was a case of "the devil was sick, the devil a saint was he."

An Able Man

Now Mr. Bennett has been out of office for several years, and the terrific gunfire of criticism against him has died down, giving the public a chance to realize what he really did do. Mr. Bennett was obsessed with the idea that high tariffs would bring prosperity. All economics teaching said that he was wrong, and certainly his high tariffs didn't seem to prevent Canada plunging deeper and deeper into depression. For four years he kept his ears closed to the demands of those who were asking for social legislation, and then it proved too late. He was seemingly shut off from knowledge of the human suffering caused by the world depression, until someone close to him, his brother-in-law, W. D. Herridge, was able to convince him that new conditions called for new measures.

Now That Fight Is Over

It is easy to see now, looking back, that, however mistaken economic policies may have been, an able man was at the helm during the early years of the depression. A man of experience in big business and finance, and a man of sterling character, was doing his best to battle against seemingly overwhelming world forces of depression. People of all parties are paying tribute to Mr. Bennett now. All the hatred and bitterness have gone.

Immigration Problem

And we trust that Mr. Bennett will be listened to now when he tells of Canada's needs. One point that appealed to us particularly was his remarks about immigration. As he said, we already have too many farm producers. We already have too many industrial workers. Yet, who is going to populate this vast country which we call ours, Mr. Bennett asked. We hold Canada in trust, he said. Can we afford to close our doors to the refugees of Europe, or is the present an opportunity to take from Europe a better class of immigrants, not just peasants to add to our agricultural over-production, but a large proportion of professional, business, and industrially skilled people, to increase our home market for agricultural products at least as much as the newcomers to agriculture will increase our agricultural production?

A LITTLE STUFFY

On Monday evening about 15 persons sat in the council chamber for an hour and a half at least, without any fresh air except for the occasional opening of the door as someone went in or out, and except for the blast of hot air from a coal furnace register with a faint admixture of coal gas. There was a little tobacco smoke, too. No one is to blame, but council business would be speeded up at least ten per cent, we suggest, if the chamber were properly ventilated. Why couldn't a transom be made over the doorway, or a fan window ventilator be installed? It would be good business for the town to do anything which would promote clear thinking at the council meetings.

RE MR. McCULLAGH

We note from a galley-proof of words of commendation for Publisher George McCullagh in the "About Town" column of the Aurora page. There is much to be commended in Mr. McCullagh's advocacy of better citizenship and ending the patronage system, but we don't give Mr. McCullagh credit for thinking very clearly or very far. One of his recent "How Far Can Taxation Go?" articles made the statement that old-age pensioners would be as well off if they didn't get a pension provided governments were less extravagant.

The Common Round

By Isabel Inglis Colville

A PLACE FOR EVERYTHING

"I don't wonder you just stand and look at them," said mother, as she, Ina and I stood taking a last look at the tall green trees which had stood, glittering and glistening, at each end of the living room for three lovely weeks.

"Why the sarcastic tone?" I wanted to know.

"Well, for one thing," she went on, "you and Ina will find you have not half enough boxes to store these things—the new ones, I mean—and by the time your better half gets all these wall and ceiling decorations down, you'll stand amid the wreckage and say 'WHERE will we put all these?'"

"I know we have no attic and not NEARLY enough cupboards," I admitted, "but they'll go some place."

"Some place—humpf!" said mother, and there was a world of meaning in those two words.

"It seems a shame to take them down, they're so fresh and lovely," said I.

"Yes, and look," said Ina, "the tree itself is as alive as can be, but this thick branch we tied over that poor one is dead—it's the sugar and water, don't you think?"

"I don't think, I'm sure," I agreed, as we went at the sorrowful task of stripping the beauties.

Why is it so tedious, when trimming them is such a joy?

But at last they stood, green and fresh and unadorned—not a needle fallen, and around us on the floor, lay boxes and boxes.

"You'd better come and make some sauce for that pudding of yours," called mother from the kitchen, from whence pleasant odors of beefsteak and other tantalizing odors emanated.

"All right," said I, and proceeded to add action to words.

"I'll use brown sugar," I said, and proceeded to lift down the can from a shelf, quite a bit above my head.

Talking busily, I took out my sugar, into a small saucepan, then, with it in my hand, attempted to put the large can back on the shelf.

Perhaps you can envision the result—I didn't then; it's an open secret now; for over my upturned face and head descended a fine rain of sugar!

"Oh mother!" I moaned, and the unfeeling woman laughed as she asked "if I never would learn to put one thing down before I took up another."

I stood forlornly shedding sugar, while Ina brushed and swept, but at last I was restored to a semblance of normality and we took the trees out of their quart jars.

"Mrs. Colville—see—every drop of water and grain of sugar is gone," said Ina.

"Yes, and I put aspirin tablets in for good measure," I told her. We put the trees in quart jars of sugar and water, then packed the jars in jardinières and the end certainly justifies the means.

That evening friend husband and I tackled the wall and ceiling decorations in living room and hall.

As I looked at the wreaths and garlands and bells, I asked dubiously—"WHERE will we put all these, for they had grown from last year, for who can resist adding something each year?"

"Oh, I guess they'll fit in somewhere," said he, looking about as if he expected a door into some magic cavern to materialize out of thin air.

"The only place is the top of the wardrobe in the guest room," he added, when no help seemed forthcoming.

"You know what happened last year," said I, referring to the time when a cat took a notion to climb up there and slumber.

Hearing the noise I went to investigate and down on my unhappy head rained tinsel and garlands and what not. It improved neither the decorations nor my temper, and all the things seem to have gotten bigger and refused to go into their boxes.

However, that's where the decorations have to go—their stay there depends on whether some pussy lends an ear to the urge for adventure and goes mountain climbing. But what are a few minor mishaps. Next year, D. V., will see us going through the same process with MORE material. One forgets the mishaps and thinks only of the beauty. So till next year I hope—adieu boxes!

It is quite true that old-age pensioners in paying sales, excise and customs tax on many of the necessities of life help to pay their own pensions, but we do not believe that even Mr. McCullagh, if made a Canadian dictator, could make Canada sufficiently prosperous to enable everyone to save enough for his old age, even though that old age were to be passed in a tax-free country.

A GOOD SUGGESTION

Reeve Fred Landy made a suggestion at the town council meeting Monday night, designed to speed up business, that lists of all accounts to be passed be prepared for each councillor. We take it for granted that the press would be included. The suggestion is a good one, but as Deputy-Reeve Joseph Vale remarked, every account needs the closest possible scrutiny, and there is no scrutiny superior to that of the taxpayers.

The Globe and Mail says: "Malice Indians in New Brunswick fear that their tongue will soon become extinct. Happy Malice Indians if they have only this to worry about!" Isn't it something similar that the Globe and Mail is worrying about at the moment—fear that its radio voice will become extinct?

An enthusiastic reporter summarizing Mr. Bennett's Toronto speech, wrote that the former prime minister urged "the immediate development of a national philosophy as a further safeguard to that democracy." Reminds us of the mock fairy story, ending something like this: "And the people cried, 'Live forever O King,' and immediately the king lived forever."

HERE WE GO ROUND THE MULBERRY BUSH

BY GOLDEN GLOW

Did you ever wonder just what started you along a certain line of thought, or just how some long-forgotten event or small happening came into your mind? And when you do capture the fugitive thought and begin to think back, you end up in a most unexpected place, more than likely. We used to call it association of ideas up at high school, I recall; and really it can be rather fun.

I caught myself humming the tune you hear so often over the radio (in swing time) these days: "Here we go round the mulberry bush," then the "mulberry" must have caught my fancy as I began to sing the words, for before I knew from Japan, possibly infected with anthrax germs, already responsible for a death in North Dakota. Shipments of the brushes have already been traced to four towns in western Canada, and to a Toronto jobber.

A severe gale off the south-western coast of England early Monday endangered shipping for miles and resulted in the deaths of 12 people, seven of whom were members of the St. Ives life-saving crew, who were answering a S.O.S. call. These men had saved many lives and had been decorated for bravery.

Efforts intended "to make us ready for war," in the words of Premier Neville Chamberlain, were launched by him in England this week, in a strenuous recruiting campaign to fill the vacancies in the civilian defence units.

Barcelona was suffering almost continual bombing on Monday, as the rebel armies reached within about 15 miles of the city. Loyalists fought back grimly, and many women left the city to join the fighting forces. A British freighter was sunk in the harbor, when hit by a bomb.

Hon. Norman Rogers, federal minister of labor, who spoke recently at Pickering college, on Monday outlined in the House of Commons an extensive unemployment project, to stimulate private industry through public expenditures and to employ thousands of the nation's jobless. He announced that the direct relief grant would be on a 40-40-20 basis.

EDUCATE PUBLIC RE VENEREAL DISEASE

The comments of several citizens on the picture, "Damaged Goods," coming to the Strand theatre, Newmarket, follow:

Dr. J. H. Wesley, M.O.H.: "My thanks are due to Mr. Roy Rhinehart, the genial manager of the Strand theatre, for an invitation to see the preview of the film, 'Damaged Goods,' said to be the greatest moral story ever pictured, and is to be shown here next Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 1 and 2."

"This picture is strictly moral, is very educational and has been taken from real life. Everybody, excepting young children, should see this beautiful picture."

"The safety of our Canadian people lies in public education." Dr. S. J. Boyd: "I was invited to see 'Damaged Goods,' and give my opinion of it. It is the naked truth, well acted."

"The more people know about venererel disease, the better they are able to protect themselves and their children."

Dr. C. E. VanderVoort says: "I watched the picture, 'Damaged Goods,' with a great deal of interest."

"My comment would be that it should be seen by everyone over the age of 15."

"There is nothing to shock the sensibilities of even the most particular, and there is so much truth and education in the picture that its value should be very high."

Rev. A. J. Patstone, St. Paul's church says: "It was my privilege to see a preview of the picture 'Damaged Goods.' It is a picture that deals with one of our major physical, social and moral problems."

"Knowledge is power" in dealing with such problems, and the picture does give such knowledge, so far as a short and interesting story well rendered can do. Its positive message that this awful menace to health can be both prevented and cured should strengthen the cause of those whose ministry is that of healing, whether physical or spiritual."

Much unpleasant publicity was necessary before T.B. was so largely mastered. The end did justify the means."

itions somewhere speaking of the merchandise of gold, and silver and precious stones and of pearls, and fine linen, and purple and silk, and other splendid things if I could recall them, exported by the Hbly Land. Then, no doubt they raised the mulberry trees for the silkworms, as they do to this day over in China and Japan. And no doubt they used the black mulberry for the purple dye they could obtain from the berry—for there are two kinds, the black and the white, the white is grown for its leaves as food for the silkworms.

Purple and silk seem to be connected in Scripture, and that brings me at last to the only mulberry tree I ever saw, so far as I recollect. I have gone a long round about way of arriving at my destination, but you get there unless you "think back." The purple berries recalled that lovely mulberry tree to me, and I do not doubt there are many others recall it too. It stood in front of a house beside a quaint old-fashioned pump of delicious drinking water with a picturesque summer house quite near, and lovely big fir trees and other trees nearby, on Eagle St., half way to Yonge St.

That dear old home is now a memory, we used to call it the old McCormack home, but well do I recall it when it was occupied by Mrs. J. O. Little's aunt, and later by Mr. and Mrs. J. F. French, and later by Aubrey Seythes' parents—now re-modelled and occupied by Mr. Cody. It stands west of the old English burying-ground and the modern service station erected later. It was a beautiful tree, and I have eaten mulberries from it, and they surely were purple. We used to go over there for drinking-water when at picnics in Millard's woods, just north of it, across the fields—now owned by Mr. Lewis. So, "here we go round the mulberry bush."

POLICE COURT COURT FINDS ACCIDENT STORIES CONFLICTING

A remand of one week was granted to John Pyle, Cedar Valley, on two charges of driving while intoxicated and having illegal liquor, by Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe in police court here on Tuesday. Bail of $500 was renewed. The charges were laid by Chief Constable James Sloss.

Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C., asked for another remand for John Lake, Richard Phillips, and Albert Smith, all of Toronto, who are being held on charges of vagrancy. The three are still in custody, as bail of $3,000 each has not been raised. The crown attorney asked for the remand, as he said the condition of William Spence, who was injured in an accident two weeks ago, was still precarious.

On speeding charges, Gerald T. Richardson, Toronto, was fined $15 and costs, and Wilbur F. Andrews, Toronto, was fined $10 and costs.

After the magistrate had imposed a fine of $5 and costs on Emilia Sowchyn, Toronto, for not having flares on his truck, word was brought to the court that Mr. Sowchyn wished to have the charge adjourned one week. The evidence will be heard again next week.

For driving without an operator's permit, Harry Goodman, Newmarket, was fined $10 and costs. A wage claim for $81, along with court costs, was paid by Verne Smith, Sharon, on the complaint of Alex. H. Snaddon, East Gwillimbury township. Both these cases were settled out of court.

On a charge of driving his car with bad lights, Edwin Stevens, Richmond Hill, was fined $2 and costs.

Provincial Constable A. O. Ferguson stated that there was no rear light on Stevens' car and that there was only one front light.

"Do you use your revolver?" the magistrate asked Bertel Booth, Holland Landing.

"No," answered Booth. "Do you need it?" "No."

"Do you want it?" "No."

"Then I'll order that the revolver be confiscated and the charge of having an unregistered revolver will be dismissed." "On Dec. 13, 1938, I was assisting Provincial Constables Beatty and Woodworth to search the accused's premises for articles stolen from near Barrie," testified County Constable Ronald Watt. "Booth gave us the revolver, as he said we would find it anyway. The accused stated that he had made two attempts to register it but had been unable to do so. The accused said he asked County Constable Hill, who was then stationed at Queensville, to get the revolver registered but that it had never been done. I wrote to the R.C.M.P. at Ottawa and they said the gun was not registered."

Mr. Booth said that he had asked Constable Hill to testify but that the constable was not present.

Wm. Bellar, former constable of Holland Landing, stated that when he was constable he took the number of Booth's revolver and that Constable Hill was with him at the time. Mr. Bellar said that he had two revolvers to get registered in Toronto and that they had only one registration form left, so it was partly his fault that the revolver had not been registered.

A reckless driving charge laid against J. K. MacKeen, Toronto, was dismissed. On a second charge of failing to produce his operator's permit, MacKeen was fined $1 and costs. B. O'Brien, Toronto, was defence counsel while Lewis Raxlen, Toronto, represented R. Bertrand Chandler, Pefferlaw, whose truck was involved in the accident.

"I was driving my truck north between Keswick and Pefferlaw at about 11.35 p.m. when the impact occurred," stated Mr. Chandler. "The road was very slippery as there was a thin coating of ice. I saw a car approaching from the north with very bright lights. When I first saw the car it was 800 feet away, but I couldn't see its position. My speed was about 25 m.p.h. but at the time of the impact I was practically at a standstill, and my two right wheels were all off the pavement on the shoulder, while the other car was nearly all over on our side of the road. When I saw the car couldn't make the turn at the speed it was travelling at, I eased away and while I was easing the collision took place."

"I was as far over on the road as I could be without being in the ditch. I did the best I could to avoid being hit and I swung to the left. A passenger in my truck was hurt and I got hit on the chin, my wrist, wrenched, and a good shaking up. My truck was damaged beyond repair and I valued it at $250 or $300. The accused gave me his name and address and I asked him to stay till the police came but he drove away."

"Didn't your truck end up crossways on the road with your front wheels over the west side?" asked Mr. O'Brien.

"Yes," answered Mr. Chandler. Garnet Abbs, a passenger in Chandler's truck, stated that he looked out the door when he saw the car coming and the right wheels of the truck were on the east shoulder. Then his head and shoulders went through the windshield. Abbs stated he received a broken nose, cuts on the head and under the eyebrow, had part of his nose taken off, and had to have seven stitches in his neck.

"The accused offered to take me to the doctor but his car was not working very well and when another car came along MacKeen asked the driver to take me," Mr. Abbs stated.

"Didn't MacKeen help you all he could?" asked Mr. O'Brien. "Yes," answered Mr. Abbs. County Constable Alex. McCallum, who investigated the accident, stated that the truck left a skid mark of 66 feet. When later he saw the MacKeen car at Dr. Pim's at Keswick, the left front fender was badly damaged and the driver couldn't remember what had happened but said he was driving on his own side of the road, the constable stated.

"Why did you wait a week before laying the charge?" asked Mr. O'Brien. "Because I thought I might have another charge to lay and I didn't want to make two trips," answered the constable. "Did you speak to Mr. Raxlen about the accident?" "Not till today."

Testifying for the defence, Mr. MacKeen stated that he was driving about a foot and a half from the west edge of the pavement and that his car never swerved at all. "After the impact my car was still just at the east edge of the pavement," Mr. MacKeen stated. "I remember Chandler saying there was no necessity to call the police and that we would settle it some other way and he asked me to get a tow-truck, so I left and tried at two garages in Keswick but got no answer."

Miss Drinkwater and Mr. Murray, passengers in the MacKeen car, both testified that their car did not swerve before the impact. The magistrate in dismissing the charge said the evidence was quite confusing, as the prosecution witnesses said one thing and the defence witnesses said the opposite, so he gave the benefit of the doubt to the accused. Defence counsel pleaded guilty for his client to the charge of not having his operator's license with him but said that MacKeen had it at home and that he now has his 1939 license. The magistrate imposed the fine of $1.

KESWICK W.C.T.U. COMMENDS LOCAL TEACHERS

A meeting of the Keswick Women's Christian Temperance Union was held at the home of Mrs. Perry Winch on the afternoon of Jan. 18. The president, Mrs. Perry Winch, was in the chair. Mrs. Vaughan opened the meeting with scripture and prayer.

Letters that had been received from Mrs. Moffat, the president of York and Peel Women's Christian Temperance Unions and from Miss Duff, field worker, were read.

The fact that the teachers of Belhaven and Keswick schools had taken the temperance lessons in the schools during the past year was highly commended.

The possibility of having religious training in the local schools was discussed.

A very interesting and instructive clip sheet concerning liquor advertising was led by the president.

A delicious lunch was served.

Keswick

Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather on Sunday, there was a good attendance at the morning service at the United church. The choir sang a special number and Mr. Fockler in a short service installed the 1939 executive of the W.M.S.

In the sermon he stressed the importance of living out a well-planned life, as it was only when allegiance was paid to the altar and the home, and when others were served faithfully, that true happiness could be found. He said, "Owing to the continuance of the storm there were not many present for the evening service, which nevertheless was inspiring. The choir, which was delightful, was composed of several of the junior members of the congregation who had braved the weather."

Announcement was made that the annual meeting of the church will be held on Monday evening, Jan. 30, when reports from all the organizations in connection with the church will be presented. There will be a shower for the newly hatched at Mrs. L. B. Pollock's home on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 31, when all the ladies are cordially invited to be present. The following are on that table, Mrs. L. B. Pollock, Mrs. Vaughan, Mrs. McGenerty and Mrs. G. Etham Morton.

The regular meeting of the United church W. A. with supper, will be held on Thursday, Feb. 2. The following ladies will have charge of supper arrangements: Mrs. J. Baines, Mrs. McGenerty, Miss K. McInnis, and Mrs. Pedlar. Very satisfactory reports were given of the different departments at the annual meeting of the United church Sunday-school held at the manse on Jan. 18. Very few changes were made, except relating to the superintendent. Frank Marritt was re-elected as superintendent with the following four associate superintendents: Miss Fockler, Mrs. Vall, P. Winch and R. Pollock. There were also appointed one pianist-in-chief, Mrs. G. Etham Morton, and four associate pianists, Misses Eula Pollock, Shirley Pollock, Doris McGenerty and Patti Connell.

A meeting of all the young married people of the church and the unmarried young people is to be held on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 29, at 2.30 in the Sunday-school room, to arrange about the reorganizing of the Young People's Bible class. Everyone is welcome. There will be a social evening on Wednesday, Feb. 8, under the auspices of the Keswick community rink committee in the public school, Keswick, at 8 o'clock. Prizes will be given for eucure, and pedro and other games will be arranged for. Everyone is invited to come, have a good time, and assist in a very worthwhile object, a skating rink for the community.

The W. M. S. of the Toronto Centre Presbyterian of the United church will hold its 18th annual meeting in Westminster Central United church, Toronto, on Tuesday, Jan. 31. The morning session commences at 9.45, the afternoon at 2 o'clock and the evening session at 7.30.

ROCHE'S POINT SIMCOE U.E.S. LODGE HOLDS INSTALLATION

The January meeting of the Roche's Point W. A. at the home of Mrs. Walinck was well attended. A paper on historical research, given by Miss Mariel Sherman, was much enjoyed by all. Reports of the Christmas work were given by the members. A contest was then enjoyed, followed by lunch.

Hostesses were Mrs. Joe Bains and Mrs. Diamond. The next meeting will be on Feb. 6, at the home of Mrs. Diamond. The hostesses will be Mrs. Bunn and Miss M. Young.

The W. A. meets every Wednesday afternoon in the parish hall. Ladies are invited to come and enjoy a pleasant afternoon.

A eucure will be held at the home of the Misses Young on Feb. 2 for the U.E.S. Everybody is welcome and invited to come and have a pleasant evening.

Simcoe chapter U.E.S. installed their officers for the coming year at their last meeting. Sister George Thompson, P.D.D.C. M., assisted by past matrons and past patrons, conducted the installation of officers in the local Orange hall, Sutton. Those who assisted were: Sister Frances Kay, organist, Sister Mary Young; chaplain, Sister Jessie Pinkham, soloist and Sister Jessie MacDonald, P.D.D.G.M., installing marshal, who exemplified the floral degree.

The officers are: W.M., Sister Emma Young; W.P., Bro. Wm. Kay; A.M., Sister Audrey Bunn; A.P., Bro. Harry Thompson; sec., Sister Jessie MacDonald; treas., Sister George Thompson; cond., Sister Reba Hirst; ass't cond., Sister Olive Cameron; chaplain, Sister T. The newly installed matron was presented with a bouquet of flowers from the retiring matron, Sister Walinck, and also a gift from the officers for 1939, and then presented her installing officers with a gift each.

Lunch was served and a pleasant evening enjoyed by all.

Holland Landing

The regular meeting of the W. A. of the United church was at the home of Mrs. B. Pearce on Tuesday afternoon of last week.

Mrs. Pegg, the president, was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Bate read the scripture lesson. There were 14 members present.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Evans.

Maple Hill

Old Mr. Winter was so bolsterous Sunday afternoon that no one dared to face him. The church services were cancelled. A good day and good attendance are hoped for next Sunday.

Prayer meeting will be held on Friday evening at the home of Mr. Bert Scott.

Mr. Jack Knights of Kapuskasing spent a few days visiting his mother and other relatives last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knights spent Sunday with Mrs. Knight's parents at Virginia.

Mr. Jack Welsh was on the sick list last week.

INCREASED SALES BY "BUY ON SATURDAY"

Editor, The Era: I am glad to see that the Presbyterian church has declared its stand against any change in our Sunday laws, and when I read their decision I was reminded of a man who said he was trained in a Presbyterian home where his parents would not allow the children to whistle on the Sabbath. I think that was going a little too far, but they provided a minister of the gospel, a man called of God to serve the people in his day and generation with something to elevate mankind to a higher plane of living, which excels all other calls that mankind may have to answer. Something is needed that would lead to elevate mankind to something better than an engaging in breaking the laws of God in the parks or anywhere else. We need to open the Book of Wisdom that we may listen to the men of wisdom. And that includes the man who would substitute man's law for God's. The Book of Wisdom says, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy" and that law has never been annulled or changed to make man a law unto himself. The rule or law of mankind is "eat, drink and be merry," on Sunday the same as any other day. And the politicians or anyone else who think they can do it and get away with it have another thing coming. The man or woman, boy or girl who will not obey God will later have to account for it. And the government that makes it easier to do wrong need not wonder that there are so many of the youth of the land today in the hold-up and robbing business. You may say that is lack of proper home training. Then why furnish more homes built on the same foundation? We have just had a rebuke and a condemnation of the Communists in Toronto. Then how dare you turn around and say we will legislate to help the Communists to destroy our Sunday and the churches? Let me say that many of the churches are not doing their duty in training the young people of today. They have called to stress the sanctity of the Sabbath and let the indulgence of the liquor and smoking habits pass as if they are a necessity. The governments need to get busy and pasteurize liquor and cigarettes or tax them higher than gasoline.

H. J. Thomas, Gorham St. (Following publication of the same letter in the Globe and Mail recently, Mr. Thomas received the following reply.)

Dear Sir:—I am pleased to see your letter to Sunday observance in this morning's Globe and Mail. It is high time members of Christian communities assert themselves or they will have this "wide-open Sunday" thrust upon them before they know it. I have been combatting this Sunday selling by drug stores for

JUVENILE REDMEN SET FAST STRIDE

BY AUBREY TIMMINS

Bradford, Jan. 24.—Bradford's juvenile O.H.A. team suffered a 5-2 defeat at the hands of the fast-stepping Newmarket crew before a fair crowd at Bradford arena on Monday night.

The visitors, who have a smooth-working combination play, were more effective on the offensive than from a defensive standpoint.

The local squad, organized this year, made an excellent showing, despite the handicap of not having uniforms of the same color, and showed a marked improvement since their game in Sutton last week when they emerged with a one-all decision from their encounter with Roche's Point. They fought hard right up to the final bell, scoring their second goal with only one minute of play remaining.

As the initial stanza got under way, both teams played a defensive type of hockey until about midway through the period, when Art Bennett bulged the twine for the visitors on a clever combination attack. Then both teams played wide-open hockey. J. O'Connor, Newmarket defenseman, broke away from a scramble beside the net but was skated into the corner by the defence.

Hamilton, Dobbie and Givens combined on a clever attack but failed to outguess Covert in the net. Trombley broke away alone but shot wide of the net when body-checked inside the blue line. In the ensuing scramble he and Burke were penalized. Art Bennett made the count 1-0 for Newmarket when the defence failed to clear a rebound as the period ended.

Doug Carter, wing man, who turned in a fine performance, was penalized following a discussion at the conclusion of the initial period.

The visitors were handed a penalty for using an extra player, but the locals failed to take advantage of the situation. Carter carried the puck through the entire team, centred it in front of the net, but the wing men couldn't beat Dillman. The visitors put on a strong offensive play which netted two goals in as many minutes and added another counter as the period ended 4-0. Art Bennett, M. Broughton and Jack Luck being the marksmen.

After six minutes of the final period had elapsed, D'Arcy Trombley was finally rewarded for his sterling efforts when he beat Dillman to make the count 4-1. Covert in the local net turned away what appeared to be a certain goal only to have a comparatively easy one from Burke's stick slip past him to make it 5-1. Carter, stand-out for the local squad, made the count read 5-2 on a shot on which Dillman had no chance. This was the first home game of the season. The referee was Robt. Dick of Newmarket.

Newmarket: goal, F. Dillman; defence, J. O'Connor, Stan. Givens; centre, H. Hamilton; wings, Art Dobbie, Tom Burke; alternates, M. Broughton, J. Groves, Jack Luck, Art Bennett and M. MacInnis.

Bradford: goal, Gordon Covert; defence, Calvin Lapp, Bill Covert; centre, D'Arcy Trombley; wings, Doug Carter, M. Woodcock; alternates, R. James, H. Dimock, T. Kellough.

Armitage

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Middlebrook, Mrs. Charles Doane, and Mrs. W. R. Armstrong were guests at Sir Wm. Mulock's birthday party on Thursday.

Elton Armstrong was re-elected for his third term as president of the Aurora Horse Show at the annual meeting on Saturday.

A paid-in-advance subscription list means a better local newspaper.

In the last five years or more, but I find that, due to politics, generally, police officers find some excuse for not prosecuting.

When I found I could get nowhere last year, I decided to approach the matter from a different angle, viz.—BUY ON SATURDAY. Special advertising on Friday in our local newspaper brought far better results than I ever anticipated. In fact I boosted my summer business over $1000 in June, July and August.

A great many of the younger generation DO NOT KNOW that there is such a law as the Lord's Day Act because our churches and our ministers have neglected to inform their hearers that the Ten Commandments are still in force, in fact, in a great many cases, an address or a sermon will perhaps give offence to members who contribute freely to the finances of the church, so it is just glossed over, if they mention it at all.

I have found that the majority of younger people take it as an infringement of their personal liberty. If you were to prevent them from purchasing on Sunday, but if you were to approach them from the affirmative side of BUY ON SATURDAY, we can all help to put this across.

Enclosed are some of the different methods I have tried out. I thought after reading your letter that you might be interested, so am sending them along.

Very truly yours,
G. E. Thompson.

TALK OF FILLING

WIDFIELD PARK

The old brick blacksmith shop on Huron st. has been torn down because it was in a dangerous condition, stated Councillor Wm. Dixon at the town council meeting Monday evening.

"The brick has all been cleaned, and Mr. Crowder tells me that all the materials, except the shingles, are good and that the building can be re-erected," said Mayor Boyd. "He doesn't want to put the building up down on the dump. He suggests that we put up the building in Widfield park. He says that he has plenty of broken concrete to make a foundation. I asked him if we could fill Widfield park, and he said there was plenty of clean material to fill Widfield park with."

In answer to questions from Councillor Frank Bowser, Dr. Boyd and N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk, said that there was nothing in the deed of gift to prevent the town filling the park.

"It's too low now," said Dr. Boyd. "The park was given as a children's playground," said Mr. Mathews. "It should be filled up, whatever it is going to be used for."

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear daughter, Gladys Clark, wife of Ross Wrightman, who went to be with Jesus, Jan. 28, 1932. Your last parting wish we would like to have heard, And breathe in our ear the last words of going word.

Only those who have lost are able to tell. The pain in the heart at not saying farewell.

Sadly missed by Mother, Father and Eva.

Cronin-In loving memory of Mother, Caroline Cronin, who passed away Jan. 31, 1932. For her, life more abundant, For us, a guiding star. Sadly missed by her Daughter and Family.

Thompson-In loving memory of Lillian Montgomery Thompson, Holt, Ont., who went to be with Jesus, Jan. 28, 1932. Until the day dawn, and the shadows flee away, when we shall meet again.

Ever remembered by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gibney.

Wrightman-In loving memory of Gladys Clark Wrightman, Queensville, Ont., who went to be with Jesus, Jan. 28, 1932. Days of sadness still come o'er us Tears in silence often flow, For memory keeps you ever near us Though you died one year ago. Your faint last wish we should like to have heard, And whispered to you one last parting word.

Only those who have lost are able to tell. The pain in the heart at not saying farewell.

We expect to meet you again, dear sister, Upon that golden shore, We will see Jesus, our Blessed Redeemer, And the Saints who have gone on before.

Lovingly remembered by Mary and Harvey Gibney.

Wrightman-In fond and loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Gladys Clark Wrightman, Queensville, Ont., who passed away one year ago, Jan. 28, 1932. Time speeds on, one year has passed, Since death its gloom, its shadow cast.

Within our home, where all seemed bright, And took from us a shining light, We miss that light, and ever will, Her vacant place there is none can fill.

Down here we mourn, but not in vain, For up in Heaven, we will meet again. Lovingly remembered by Ross, Harold and Margaret.

No One Hurt As Liquid Air Thrown On Local Audience

Ice Forming In Middle Of Flame Among Phenomena Shown

Suddenly lifting a container of liquid, Professor J. O. Wilhelm, of the department of physics of the University of Toronto, threw the drenching contents over members of his audience at the Lions club on Monday evening.

A cloud of mist arose from the soaked Lions, and in a moment all were dry again and smiling. It was liquid air which the professor had thrown at them.

Prof. Wilhelm gave a talk on low-temperature liquids, using liquid air principally in illustration.

He showed the power liquid air, turning back into a gas, to drive an engine, and then told how a stock-company had been formed, and shares sold, to manufacture liquid air engines some years ago.

"Then they discovered that it cost $2 a quart to make liquid air, whereas a quart of gasoline, costing six cents, had just as much energy in it," Prof. Wilhelm said.

The speaker stated that one gallon of liquid air produces 700 gallons of gas, and that the air is condensed at 310 degrees below zero. He put a carrot and an apple into liquid air, leaving them there for a while. When they came out they were as brittle as glass.

INTERMEDIATES HAVE HEART-BREAKING LOSS

Weakened by the absence of a couple of men, Newmarket Redmen came out two goals short in an intermediate hockey fixture at Lakefield on Saturday night. Lakefield got a 4-2 decision. McGhee and Hodgetts were both absent.

Newmarket fans thought the North York boys just as good as the Peterborough lads, but they seemed to get tough breaks. Peters in the Newmarket goal was wonderful. He had lots of rubber to stop. Gibney scored twice.

Neufeld, playing his first game with Newmarket, turned in a great performance on the defence, after Ken Woodcock was hurt in the first period. Whitten, Lakefield defence man, who played against Newmarket in junior hockey ten years ago, was great stuff in a defence position for Lakefield.

Gibney got the only score in the first period. Lakefield tied it up in the second, only to have Gibney score again. Lakefield tied it again at 2-2, and added two more in the third.

Newmarket: goal, Peters; defence, Woodcock, Peat, Neufeld; forwards, Gibney, Townsley, Brammer, May, Wrightman.

such short duration; and so the child goes back to school at the most likely time to give the disease to all the other children with whom it comes in contact. Very often a case is not discovered until some complication has occurred as late as three weeks after the commencement of the disease, such as convulsions from a kidney condition.

"The time necessary for quarantine is now 28 days from the commencement of the attack, but a child who recovers quickly from a mild attack, and who has no unhealthy tonsils to harbor the disease for a long time, may safely be released from quarantine much earlier than the statutory four weeks.

"There is a wide difference in the time of the commencement of the disease from the time of exposure. Some are observed to show the first symptoms in four days from the exposure and some as late as 20 days, with the average about ten days. "The important part of this letter is to ask all parents to have their children immunized with scarlet fever toxoid at once. This can be done by your family physician and it protects your children from scarlet fever, the same as diphtheria toxoid protects them from diphtheria.

"The town doctors will find a plentiful supply of the toxin at the office of the M.O.H., and all indigent cases may receive free treatment at his office.

"All children should be treated, or we say immunized, against diphtheria, scarlet fever and smallpox before setting foot in the public school, and the co-operation of the parents, teachers and the family physician will be very much appreciated by the department of health.

"And it is confidently expected that the day is not far distant when the younger generation can be safely and successfully immunized against that most destructive of all communicable diseases, and that is tuberculosis."

TELLS OF Gaping JAWS OF ALLIGATORS

The special meetings in connection with the Salvation Army anniversary concluded on Sunday, Jan. 22, at a result of great interest and enthusiasm. A real revival has taken place, and a deeper interest in spiritual things in general has been manifested. One of the most encouraging things, is the number who have sought a deepening of their spiritual life, another is the way the young people are rallying to the cause, and taking a vital interest in the work.

One of the highlights of the campaign was the lecture by Major Welling, who has done 15 years in Africa, on the work in Rhodesia in the footsteps of the immortal Livingstone. He has traversed hundreds of miles down the Zambezi valley and other parts of this entrancing country. He told of the work in his division where nothing had ever been done for the evangelization of the heathen, and where now the work is progressing so fast it is almost impossible to keep up with it. He showed lantern slides of hills built and equipped by Canadian money, where heathen customs are being destroyed and where the light of Christ's gospel is liberating the people.

He told of sailing down the Zambezi, and of a native canoe, which is nothing but a tree hollowed out with alligators pushing their snouts over the sides, and one, whole or anybody's part might deliver the whole party to the gaping jaws of the hungry alligators.

He told of the first native, a boy who came to the army from a heathendom, to secure his senior matriculation. This boy was taught at the Howard Institute, the army's college in Rhodesia, the headmaster of which is a Salvation Army captain from England with the following degrees, M.A., B.A., B.Sc., L.R.A.M.

He whetted appetites by telling of some of the savory dishes provided by the natives, among them being field mice boiled, grasshoppers roasted, huge grubs, fat and juicy, fur and all, just browned to a crisp. The packing of animals inside, rolled into balls and dropped into boiling water, served on a skewer, hot. The major said they soon learned to refuse meat unless they saw it before being cooked.

He told of an old man who had been converted and then disappeared. Years afterward he turned up at headquarters requesting officers be sent to a certain part of the country. On investigating, it was discovered he had organized six corps among his own people. He would go to a village, start the work, and when a number had been converted, he would put a convert in charge and move on. In this way six thriving outposts had been opened.

Eighty slides were shown depicting many interesting scenes, including the grave of Livingstone, and the last church where he spoke, which is now a Salvation Army hall. Those who were not present missed a real treat. The lecture was both educational and inspiring.

A very unique meeting was held on Friday night when seven people who helped to establish the Army in Newmarket were present. Some of those were among the number who got locked up in the early days.

Helpful meetings are held at the army hall throughout the week, and on Sunday. Why not drop in some time?

CHEROKEE CLUB TO HOLD BRIDGE AT MRS. W. H. EVES'
The Cherokee club is holding a bridge at the home of Mrs. W. H. The bridge at night is for ladies and gentlemen and starts at 8 p.m.

TELLS WOMEN ABOUT VALUE OF SOYA BEAN
There was a splendid attendance at the Newmarket Women's Institute, which was held at the home of Mrs. N. J. Roadhouse, last Thursday afternoon.

A letter from an institute lady in New Zealand telling of conditions there, was read by Mrs. A. E. Boyd.

Mrs. Aubrey Bailey contributed a lovely piano selection. A very interesting address on agriculture was given by Mrs. McDonald, showing the value of the soya bean, of which there are 15 varieties.

The new scientific courses on temperance for the schools were outlined by Mrs. Arthur Wynn.

average about ten days. "The important part of this letter is to ask all parents to have their children immunized with scarlet fever toxoid at once. This can be done by your family physician and it protects your children from scarlet fever, the same as diphtheria toxoid protects them from diphtheria.

which was very instructive. It was decided to hold an afternoon tea in the Hugle Band hall on Friday, Feb. 10.

Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

WILL SPEAK ON CHINA
Rev. T. T. Faichney, of the Christian church, will be the guest speaker at the next monthly meeting of the Newmarket Veterans' Association, at the R. S. A. Hugle band hall on Jan. 30.

The meeting will begin at 7:45 sharp and the business session will adjourn at 8:25 when Mr. Faichney will speak on China and their wives and friends are cordially invited.

ST. PAUL'S LADIES AID
The meeting of the Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's church will be held in the parish hall, on Monday, Jan. 30, at 3 p.m. All the ladies of the congregation are cordially invited.

The annual vestry meeting of St. Paul's church was held last Monday evening in the parish hall. There was a good attendance and a spirit of optimism prevailed at the gathering.

The church wardens presented a very encouraging report for the past year, showing considerable improvement over previous years. The same wardens were elected for 1939, J. O. Little and J. E. Nesbitt.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF GOOD CHEER CLASS HELD
The annual banquet of the Good Cheer class of the Christian church was held on Monday evening in the basement of the church, over 40 members being present.

The tables were attractively decorated with the class colors, red and white, and daffodils. The dinner was prepared and served by Miss Annie Knowles' class, the J. O. Y. girls, and was a masterpiece of the culinary art.

After the banquet an old-fashioned program, arranged by a past president of the class, was rendered. The first number was a sing-song by all the members, followed by solos, duets and readings.

The guests of honor were Rev. and Mrs. T. T. Faichney. The pastor, being called upon for a speech, gave a splendid address. His subject was "Lighting Fires in Cold Rooms." God Save the King, followed by the benediction by the pastor, brought a most enjoyable get-together to a close.

ST. PAUL'S LADIES AID
The meeting of the Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's church will be held in the parish hall, on Monday, Jan. 30, at 3 p.m. All the ladies of the congregation are cordially invited.

Dr. W. J. Stevenson Passes, In 75th Year

Had Been Aurora's M. O. H.
For More Than Quarter Century

Following a sudden heart attack on Sunday evening, Dr. W. J. Stevenson, Aurora's medical officer of health, passed away the same night, in the Yonge St. home in which he was born almost 75 years ago.

The house in which Dr. Stevenson spent most of his life was the home of his father, George L. Stevenson, one of the founders of the village. The doctor attended school here and went later to the grammar school in Newmarket.

He graduated in medicine from Trinity Medical College, Toronto, and spent three months in London, England, and six months in Dublin, Ireland, doing post-graduate work. While there he witnessed the Queen's jubilee procession in 1867.

Returning to Aurora, he practised for a time with the late Dr. Robert W. Hillary, Sr., and then, in 1890, started up his own practice at his late residence.

"He had one of the largest practices of any country doctor," his friend, Major W. H. Taylor, states. "He was highly esteemed by everybody. His only failing was that he never sent out any bills."

Dr. Stevenson, in his early days, was a very keen cricketer. One of the best bowlers and batsmen in Canada, he was chosen, along with his friend, H. W. Fleury, to join an All-Canada team to visit the Old Country.

He joined the Masons in May, 1894. Master of the lodge in 1899 and 1907, he was very active in Masonic work and helped with the remodeling of the lodge rooms in 1904. The last gathering of the lodge which he attended was on the occasion of the funeral of the late S. C. Taylor.

Dr. Stevenson was also a charter member of the Sons of England, of which he has been surgeon since the time of its inception here in 1882, and he remained a member until his death. He had been treasurer of the S.O.E. for some 40 years. He attended a meeting of the lodge on Tuesday of last week. It was the first time he had been up to the Orange hall for a meeting, as his heart condition had forced him to avoid climbing stairs.

For a number of years, the doctor was also a member of the Orange association.

A strong Conservative in politics, his Tory activities commenced when he was only 16 years of age, and he was a past-president of the Conservative association of North York.

"At one time," Major Taylor commented, "Dr. Stevenson could tell you every name on the voters' list and tell you which way they voted."

"Of course, we knew people better in those days," he explained.

Dr. Stevenson took a great interest in town affairs, and for some years had been a member of the high school board. The story of his family is interwoven with the history of the town. His father had been a harness-maker here and owned a good deal of property in the business section. A half-brother, Edward, was proprietor of the "Aurora Borealis," an early paper in the town.

"He was one of my best friends," Postmaster H. E. Proctor, who had known him for 60 years, stated. "He was wonderfully successful in his practice. If a man did not have anything wrong with him, the doctor didn't hesitate to tell him so, and he was always willing to call in another doctor in consultation."

Dr. Stevenson's wife, who died some years ago, possessed considerable ability as an artist, and helped to decorate the Masonic lodge rooms and several rooms in the United Church Sunday-school, in which she had a class of some 40 boys.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Reginald Morphy, of London, Ont., and Mrs. E. Platz, of Cincinnati, Ohio; and two sisters, Mrs. Harvey Winters, of Providence, R.I., and Mrs. R. Stevenson, Toronto.

Dr. Stevenson would have been 75 on Wednesday of this week, The Era was told.

Rev. Dr. E. J. Thompson and Rev. G. O. Lightbourn officiated at the funeral service which was held from Dr. Stevenson's late residence on Wednesday afternoon. He was buried with Masonic honors. Interment was made in Aurora cemetery.

Pallbearers were E. Eveleigh, George Wilkinson, J. McGhee, Dr. E. V. Underhill, M. L. Andrews, J. G. McDonald.

AURORA PUCKCHASERS GUESTS OF ROYAL THEATRE

Members of the Aurora hockey team were entertained at the Royal Theatre on Tuesday evening as guests of E. D. Warren, manager of the theatre. Mr. Warren is one of the club's keenest supporters, and is seldom absent from a game. This is the second time this winter that the hockey players have been his guests.

ROYAL SCARLET AND GOLD NAME OFFICERS

Members of the Royal Scarlet and Gold lodge of East Guilford held their annual meeting in the Orange hall on Thursday evening of last week.

Reports showed that the lodge was in good financial standing.

Past Companion J. Hudson took the chair during the election, which saw J. Hurst named as worshipful companion in command; A. Long, deputy-commander; L. C. Lee, companion chaplain; W. O. Hutchison, companion scribe; W. H. Taylor, worshipful treasurer; F. B. Cooper, companion marshal.

E. Arnold, 1st lecturer; C. J. Diamond, 2nd lecturer; A. Ossington, 1st conductor; L. Cronsberry, 2nd conductor; N. Harmon, herald; Wm. Pattenden, sentinel; Mr. Bank and H. Pedlar, auditors. The next meeting, at which a number of candidates will be presented, will include a banquet.

HORTICULTURALISTS TO SPONSOR LECTURE

The executive of the Aurora Horticultural Society, at a recent meeting, decided that an invitation be extended to "Dick, the Amateur Gardener" to lecture in Aurora on Monday evening, Feb. 13.

Considerable interest was aroused by this lecturer last year, and the society has decided to continue its efforts to interest more Aurorans in their gardens, by having another lecture given by this speaker.

JUVENILES TO PLAY IN AURORA MONDAY

Aurora's representatives in juvenile hockey will play their second home game in the Aurora arena on Monday evening, when they will meet Richmond Hill. The boys look better every time out, and are rapidly rounding into form.

Stiffest opposition seems to be coming from Stouffville and it is likely that these teams will meet in the playoffs. While lacking the experience of the junior players, these juveniles have all it takes to make a hockey thriller.

Visitor: "And what will you do, little girl, when you get as big as your mother?" Little Girl: "Diet!"

Aurorans Shine In 6-2 Win Over East York Pucksters

Locals Show Group-Winning Form To Trim Yorkers By Four Goals

Supporters of the Aurora hockey team began to hope for possibilities of another group championship when the Aurorans tucked away a clean-cut victory over one of the strongest teams in the group last Friday night, handing East York a 6-2 defeat.

This week's game showed the purple and white team to be rapidly rounding into shape. Most of the goals came as the result of fine passing play, though the boys lost plenty of chances in front of the opposition net. Defensively, too, the team looks better. The forwards are doing a better job of back-checking, and the defencemen are clearing better.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Reginald Morphy, of London, Ont., and Mrs. E. Platz, of Cincinnati, Ohio; and two sisters, Mrs. Harvey Winters, of Providence, R.I., and Mrs. R. Stevenson, Toronto.

Dr. Stevenson would have been 75 on Wednesday of this week, The Era was told.

Rev. Dr. E. J. Thompson and Rev. G. O. Lightbourn officiated at the funeral service which was held from Dr. Stevenson's late residence on Wednesday afternoon. He was buried with Masonic honors. Interment was made in Aurora cemetery.

Pallbearers were E. Eveleigh, George Wilkinson, J. McGhee, Dr. E. V. Underhill, M. L. Andrews, J. G. McDonald.

ABOUT TOWN

LONESOME ROAD

It is said that the road which we must travel to reach that place where all good folk go is a strait and narrow one. We don't know so much about that. We have often thought, however, from our observance of people and things, that there is another road which runs almost parallel to that strait and narrow path.

We would call it the lonesome road. It is the road travelled by men who do their own thinking, men who say things and do things—not because most other people do them—but because in their own judgment, these are the things to do and the things that must be said.

These folk walk pretty much alone, accompanied by little else than the jeers of the "crowd." Prominent in our collection of "lonesome-roads" is Mr. Woodsworth, forlorn and much maligned leader of the C.C.F. in the dominion parliament. From the time when, as a minister of the Methodist church, he refused to let his elders do his thinking for him, Mr. Woodsworth has walked alone.

With only a few members sitting by him in the house of commons, he has been instrumental in forcing the government hand in social reform. He has walked alone, but so purposefully that Mr. Bennett quelled the boastful Mackenzie King with "For shame, Mr. King."

Walking alone the other day, Mr. Woodsworth took occasion to remark that with huge numbers of Canadians on relief and short rations, the various provinces should not spend too much money on the occasion of the coming visit of the king and queen. He thought Canada's welcome should be adequate, but in view of the shortness of the visit and of the public purse, he asked for moderation, not extravagance.

That brought some drama to the news. For the lonesome road of Mr. Woodsworth crossed the highway travelled by the Toronto ex-mayor, William Stewart.

Mr. Stewart does not know the lonesome road. He became a mayor of Toronto, a Commander of the British Empire, and a member of parliament by thinking what a majority of the people thought, by saying what a majority of the people wanted to hear. Mr. Stewart is a leader—not of lost causes—but of causes comfortably won.

Mr. Stewart, to do him justice, is a capable man and has filled his positions with honor. But he moves, not along the lonesome road, but along the populous highway of popular approval. If it wasn't popular, he would walk elsewhere. He is of the crowd, and to give him further credit, he not only waves a flag, but also bangs on a drum.

When lonesome Woodsworth asked for less extravagance, popular Stewart said, "Mr. Woodsworth."

OLD BOYS' WIN

The Old Boys of St. Andrew's College nosed out the present St. Andrew's hockey team by a score of 8-7 on Monday afternoon.

ter. On Friday night they were backed by a spectacular performance by Joe McGhee, the Aurorans' sorrel-topped goalie.

The first period showed the teams to be on even terms, with Aurora getting a break for the only score of the session. McGhee had taken the puck up and only to lose his footing in front of the East York net. Collings pushed the puck towards, however, and McGhee showed his ability to score sitting down to

MRS. B. G. WHITELAW NAMED PRESIDENT OF DORCAS SOCIETY OF BAPTIST CHURCH

Members of the Dorcas Society of the Aurora Baptist church met on Thursday afternoon of last week in the vestry for their annual meeting and election of officers.

Mrs. B. G. Whitelaw was the choice for president, and Mrs. J. Dodd was elected vice-president of the society. The secretary's duties will be taken care of by Mrs. L. Borden, and Mrs. J. Gowen was named treasurer. The society, whose object it is to raise funds to pay for the care-taking of the church, showed by its financial statement that all expenses had been met.

Plans were made for the new year, and Mrs. Whitelaw offered her home for an open meeting, to be held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 21.

United Church Congregation Raises $3,000 For Missions

C. W. Mulloy Appointed Honorary Member Of The Session

Over $3,000 had been raised for missionary purposes during the past year, it was revealed at the congregational meeting of the Aurora United church on Wednesday night. Of this sum, $750 had been raised by the Women's Missionary Society of the church.

The mortgage which fell due this year had been reduced by $2,000, the major portion of which was raised by a thank offering for that purpose, it was stated. The Women's Auxiliary reported a good year, and after paying the usual obligations, had given $200 to the stewards to be applied against the church's indebtedness.

C. W. Malloy, after years of service as clerk of the session, was made an honorary member of the session, Rev. Dr. E. V. Underhill, C. E. Lundy and Lambert

ELTON ARMSTRONG NAMED AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY'S PRESIDENT FOR THIRD TERM

President for the past two years of the Aurora Agricultural Society, Elton Armstrong was elected for a third term at a meeting of the society held in the Oddfellows' hall on Saturday afternoon.

John Bowser was named first vice-president and A. W. McLennan was elected second vice-president as representative of the Toronto and North York Hunt Club. G. D. Y. Leacock was appointed chairman of the board of directors, who were named as follows:

Representing Aurora: Frank Teasdale, Lorne Cousins, George Baldwin; east district: M. H. Willson, Lorne Evans, C. Connor; west district: Frank Williams, Richard Starr, Ray Jennings; north district: T. H. Shropshire, A. Doner; south district: Walter Wood, C. Walkington; Toronto and North York Hunt; Malcolm Richardson, Timothy Eaton.

The number of directors had to be reduced from 25 to 15, because of a government regulation to this effect, Elton Armstrong told the meeting.

T. H. Roadhouse was named chairman of the advertising committee; G. D. Y. Leacock, program committee; C. Casey, grounds committee; A. M. Kirkwood, finance committee; G. D. Y. Leacock, prize committee.

Frank Teasdale will have charge of hunters and jumpers; James Morning, Percherons and Belgians; R. S. Starr, Clydesdales; M. H. Willson, agricultural horses.

Messrs. Gregg and Underhill were re-appointed auditors. Arrangements for a ladies' night were left in the hands of A. M. Kirkwood.

The treasurer's report, read by A. M. Kirkwood, showed the society to have a balance of $1,336.51 on hand. Mr. Kirkwood also drew attention to the fact that the society had had a steady growth since 1923, through years in which the average "show" found it hard to continue. Last year's entries had shown an increase in almost all classes, he

AURORA HOCKEY JUVENILES MOSED OUT BY STOUFFVILLE, 6-5, IN FIRST ENCOUNTER

Aurora got its first chance to see organized juvenile hockey on Thursday night, when Stouffville visited the local arena to take on the town's 17-years-old-and-under squad in their first game of the juvenile group series.

It was Stouffville's second game, as they had handed the Richmond Hill juveniles a shel-lacking earlier in the week, and the Aurorans, playing in their first encounter, were disorganized in the early periods of the game.

The Auroras lads made up for it later, however, and in the third period they did most of the scoring. Stouffville had the advantage of an early lead, however, and won 6-5. An unfortunate decision by the referee, who allowed the Stouffville team a goal which they scored after he had blown his whistle, robbed the Aurorans of a tie game.

Stouffville scored first, early in the first period, but a smart goal from Trent, who had been handed a pass from Thompson, evened it up. In the second period, Stouffville rapped in two more before Aurora had a chance to retaliate, Wilcox scoring on a fine solo rush.

Stouffville still carried the play and by the end of the period they

WEST YORK DEANERY PLANS FOR "AT HOME"

The annual "at home" of the West York deanery will be held on Feb. 8. The affair will be held in the auditorium of the Aurora high school.

Willson were appointed to the board of stewards. Asa Cook, John Faris and Howard Oliver were appointed for five years and M. L. Andrews was appointed to fill out the term of J. Cosford. Revision of the church roll, with removal of some members by death or by certificate, showed a decrease in membership from 532 to 471.

Dr. G. W. Williams, representing the congregation, voiced appreciation of the splendid work done by the minister, Rev. Dr. E. J. Thompson. A resolution of sympathy was also extended to all those who, by reason of illness, were unable to attend the meeting.

R. S. Starr, F. Teasdale, W. Bovair, J. Morning, M. H. Willson and J. Edwards reported on the various classes of which they had charge and supported Mr. Kirkwood's statement.

The women's classes at the show had reflected great interest in the two years they had been included, and this year, it was decided, this department would be placed in the hands of the women themselves.

Frank Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jennings were appointed as delegates to the Ontario Fair Board.

A suggestion that the society include in its show classes for cattle met with some opposition when it was reported that not all cattle in the province were tested for Bang's disease, and representative cattlemen in the society voiced the opinion that they would not be willing to enter their cattle until conditions changed in this respect.

Quality, and not quantity had been the first consideration in making up the jumping classes, George Leacock reported. People preferred to see a few good jumpers than a larger number of indifferent ones. Horses that had failed to win in the Aurora show had done so at the Royal Winter Fair he stated in support of his contentions that stables were now sending their first string horses to the Aurora fair.

Urging support of the seed fair, Elton Armstrong told of a farmer's son who had sown government seed on four acres, taken a prize at the fair which enabled him to sell his oats for a dollar a bushel. Seventy bushels per acre had been received by those taking part in this department, he said.

W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative, spoke briefly. He had just come from an agricultural society's annual meeting in Woodbridge, and had another to attend in Sutton, he said. The annual meeting of those interested in the seed fair would be held in his office in Newmarket on Saturday afternoon, he stated.

CEMETERY COMPANY ELECTS 1939 BOARD

The annual meeting of the Aurora cemetery board, held in the council room on Wednesday evening of last week resulted in J. F. Walker being returned as president of the board. A. Love is secretary-treasurer.

Directors of the board include: W. J. Knowles, L. Branbury, C. E. Lundy, J. B. Gregg, J. F. Willis and Dr. W. J. Stevenson.

had a 5-2 advantage. The third period saw Aurora on the score sheet again, with a goal by Closs. Then came the much-disputed goal by Stouffville, followed by two counters by Aurora.

Teams—Aurora: Harmon and Hodgins, goal; Wilcox, Thompson, defence; Fry, centre; Knowles, Closs, wings; Caruso, Trent, Case, Stephens, Neilly, Bunn, alternates.

Stouffville—Nicholson, goal; Harper, Cooper, defence; Stewart, centre; Painter, Cadieux, wings; Williams, Abel, Brown, Wentusken, alternates.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Margaret Cook spent the weekend with Mrs. D. Smith, at Eaton Hall farm.

Master John Hodgkinson celebrated his fourth birthday on Monday with a party to commemorate the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith of Toronto spent the weekend with Miss Victoria Richardson, Wellington St.

Mrs. D. M. Galbraith has been visiting in the city for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott of Toronto spent the weekend with Mrs. J. Elliott.

Mrs. J. Whimster, Miss Mary Walton, Mrs. J. M. Walton, were among those who were present to congratulate Sir William Mulock on his 95th birthday on Thursday.

Mrs. S. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cook, spent Sunday in Newmarket with Mr. and Mrs. Ken Bain.

Miss Barbara and Mr. Bud Gilbert spent the weekend in Barrie.

Messrs. Walter Dunning, Ted Anderson, M. L. Andrews and Victor Jones were present at the social evening held by Newmarket Oddfellows on Tuesday.

AURORANS WILL PLAY "HOME" GAME TUESDAY

The Aurora hockey team will play its last group game before going into the play-offs, against Markham on Tuesday. The game is being played on Richmond Hill ice, though it is really a home game for the boys. The club is hoping as many of their supporters as possible will be able to turn out for this tussle, which should prove to be one of the best of the season.

MRS. JAMES COULTER DIES IN 90TH YEAR

Known affectionately to her many friends in Aurora as "Aunt Ruth," Mrs. James Coulter died last week, in her 90th year.

Mrs. Coulter, who, before her marriage, was Ruth Hainstock, came to Aurora from Cookstown some 12 years ago, following the death of her husband. Since that time she has lived with her niece, Mrs. Charles Webster, Yonge St. Surviving are two brothers, Charles Hainstock, of Radisson, Sask., and Robert, of Shoal Lake, Man.

The funeral was conducted from the home of Mrs. C. Webster, with Rev. Dr. E. J. Thompson officiating, on Saturday afternoon. Interment was made in Aurora cemetery.

Until shortly before her death, Mrs. Coulter had enjoyed the best of health. She had good hearing, had never needed glasses, and spent a good deal of time with her knitting.

LORNE LEE TALKS TO ANGELICAN YOUNG FOLK

Members of the Anglican Young People's society enjoyed a talk given by their guest speaker, Town Solicitor L. C. Lee, on Monday night. The talk was given on the constitutional law of Great Britain, and some interesting criminal cases were reviewed.

Gordon French has charge of next week's meeting. The Young People expect to have another in the series of A.Y.P.A. services, following the regular evening service in Trinity Anglican church on Feb. 28.

FESTIVAL PLANS FOR ADDITIONAL CLASSES

Bigger and better than ever are the plans of the fourth edition of the York Musical Festival, as revealed in the newly published syllabus. The festival has had a steady growth since its inception, and this year the number of classes has increased from 134 to 147.

Classes providing for junior vocal duets for both boys and girls have been added. There have been also additions made for junior classes in brass and woodwinds.

One of the most interesting developments this year is the inclusion of a competition for short plays. By way of experiment a change will be made in conditions governing choral classes. Instead of competing, each choir will give a demonstration of its ability, on which comment by the adjudicator will be given. There will be no awards for these classes.

Aurorans Forced Into Overtime; Win By 7-4

Will Play Hard-Checking Stouffville Squad Here
On Friday

East York Had Winning Edge With Only 35 Seconds Of Game To Play

What are the Aurorans' play-off chances? While Aurora's hockey team has a commanding lead in the group games, this means little when it comes down to a play-off with the top teams in the group.

Stouffville has beaten the purple and white team once, East York nearly did the trick this week, and Markham has always been a threat. If not the biggest threat, in the group.

These teams have been looking better every time out, and the Aurora club is taking every game seriously.

Fans will have a chance to look the boys over again when they play against Stouffville here on Friday night, and it should be a grand battle.

Collings will be missing from the Stouffville game on Friday with a game leg, and Stouffville will be making the most of Aurora's weakened front line.

The Aurorans will play their last group schedule game on Monday or Tuesday of next week, and the first of the play-off games will probably be played here on Friday, though this latter fixture, of course, is left pretty well to the judgment of the "higher-ups" in the hockey world.

COLLINGS AND BONE HEAD HOCKEY CLUB

Rev Collings, sometimes known as "Mutt" was elected captain of the Aurora hockey team this week. Roy proved his worth on the Aurora Jubilee last year. He has shown up well on the score sheet this year, though he is at his best as playmaker, setting up the plays that make it easier for the others to score.

Gordon Bone was elected to the position of assistant captain. Gordon was also a member of last year's squad, and is a stand-out on defence this year, in addition to being a real scoring threat.

JOHN MURPHY LOSES FINGER IN ACCIDENT

John Murphy, Schomberg Junction, lost a finger as a result of an accident which occurred on Saturday at the plant of the Sisman Shoe Company.

The finger was wrenched out of its socket, and Mr. Murphy was taken to York county hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the finger. It was the first finger on his right hand.

Towners, Oak Ridges Win In Mercantile Hockey Fixture

Plenty Of Hockey Action
Seen In Monday Town
League Double-Header

The town league hockey teams went at it again on Monday evening, and a rugged brand of hockey was the result.

In the first half of the double-header the rejuvenated town team took on the Factory Equipment squad, and earned a 5-2 victory.

McCrae, the town's new player, featured the first period, tucking away three goals in two minutes midway through the session.

The Factory Equipment lads were better organized in the second period and kept McCrae covered. After 14 minutes of play Ken Rose scored the town's fourth counter, beating Smith from close in. Harry Fry and Harold Foster were penalized for fighting, but there was no scoring during their absence.

The third period saw the Factory Equipment team checking hard and showing a much stronger attack. Albert Holman starred in this session and chalked up two nice goals for the Equipment brigade while Wesley Heaney rapped in the town's fifth goal.

Teams—Factory Equipment: M. Smith, goal; A. Holman, B. Benville, defence; C. Chapman, centre; H. Foster, A. Cooper, wings; B. McGirr, S. Flicker, D. Glass, G. McKenzie and D. Judd.

Town: H. Yakes, goal; H. Sutton, J. Scott, defence; K. Rose, centre; McCrae, W. Heaney, wings; T. Heaney, H. Fry, K. and P. Knowles and A. Ferguson, alternates.

Oak Ridges and the tannery mixed it up for the second game of the night, and play was faster than in the first spasm. Oak Ridges scored the only goal in Fighting hard to oust Markham from second-place group hockey honors, East York put everything they had into their game with the Aurorans in Unionville on Monday night. And up to 35 seconds of the regulation playing time, it looked as if they had the game.

After leading Aurora all through the game, the time-keeper was just reaching for the bell when "Joint" McComb rang in the goal that tied the score and put the game into overtime. McComb starred in the overtime session too and the final score was 7-4 for Aurora.

East York started the scoring put Aurora on the score sheet.

Two penalties were handed to Gilbey, Aurora defenceman, in this period, and three to the East Yorkers.

Bone was penalized early in the second session, and East York used the opportunity to score, pulling McGhee to one side of the net and batting the puck in to tie the score, with Logan and Morgan getting the credit.

Ten seconds later Aurora went on a scoring spree when McGhee took a pass from Collings to make it 2-1. Then Collings scored on a beautiful Welch-McComb-Collings pass. Then the East York goalie looked for trouble by holding the puck without bringing it down to the ice, and Aurora was given a penalty shot. McGhee took the shot and turned it into Aurora's fourth goal.

In the third period a McGhee-Folliott-Bone play ended in the latter making it 5-1. Then East York came back and Forsythe scored with a shot that was just a little too hot for McGhee to hold. A pass from Gibbons gave McGhee the chance to make it 6-2 for the last score of the game.

East York got two penalties in the last period, Aurora got two injuries, when Cumming went head-first into the boards and when Welch got a bad eye. In addition the team will lose Collings for a few games.

Collings suffered a bad leg injury a few weeks ago and it has not yet responded to treatment. It was decided on Friday that Collings was too valuable a man to neglect, and he is therefore taking a good rest. It is hoped he will be available for the playoffs.

Teams—Aurora: McGhee, goal; Folliott, Bone, defence; Michanuk, centre; Cumming, Donkin, wings; McGhee, Collings, Gibbons, Gilbey, Carr, alternates.

East York: Atkins, goal; Morgan, Ingham, defence; Forsythe, centre; Johnston, Brown, wings; Bezerk, Logan, Buchanan, Pearce.

Kingsmill, alternates. Referee: Norman Collings.

PINE ORCHARD CHURCH ELECTS 1939 OFFICIALS

The Union church held their annual business meeting on Wednesday evening, Jan. 18, at the home of Sam Gibney. The following officers were elected: secretary, Miss Helen Reid; finance committee, S. Gibney, F. Reid, J. Hope; pulpit supply committee, Mrs. L. Harper, Earl Toole and Charlie Rose; trustees, Edson Johnson, Earl Toole and Fred Reid.

The church service and Sunday-school were withdrawn last Sunday owing to the storm.

Some of the town visitors to the country on Sunday had some difficulty returning home and found that a shovel often comes in handy.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hope and Miss Betty visited Miss Edith Hope at Willowdale on Saturday. Mrs. Geo. Woods entertained Mrs. M. Wilson to dinner on Wednesday.

The junior hockey team played their first game this season, with Vandorf on Saturday afternoon. They came out victorious and expect to play Ballantrae this Saturday afternoon.

Congratulations are extended to three school pupils, Jacqueline Skinner, Ruth Armitage and Billie Dike, who received additional prizes from the York and Peel W.C.T.U. for obtaining high marks in the recent temperance course.

Mrs. Minnie Wilson had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. E. Johnston and family.

Mrs. J. Reid spent the weekend with friends in Ballantrae.

A number from here were in Newmarket on Thursday evening to see the hockey match between Beaverton and Newmarket.

THREE SCHOLARS GET COUNTY RECOGNITION

At the Pine Orchard Women's Institute's annual meeting on "Temperance" last week, the following report was given on the W.C.T.U. temperance study course which they sponsored in Pine Orchard and Bogartown public schools.

Pupils who wrote from Pine Orchard were: Delbert Dike, Harvey Preston, Jacqueline Skinner, Audrey Sproston, Betty Hope, Bobbie Shropshire, Ruth Emmerson, Richard Hutchinson, Billie Dike, Vincent Woodhouse, Ruth Armitage, Murray Brilling, Grace Sproston, David Engle, Lloyd Brilling, Jean Lea, Jack Sproston, Grant Preston, Donald Wickie, Norma Dean, June Brilling, Murray Rose.

From Bogartown the pupils were: Dora McClure, Norma Druey, Joyce VanLuvén, Alta Druey and Stuart Starr.

The Institute voted $4 in prizes which were given out at the school's Christmas concert, to each child who wrote.

The prizes were knives, beads, clips, purses, aprons, notebooks, pencil sharpeners, pencil holders and pictures.

The W. I. appreciated the teachers' co-operation and the intelligent answers and neat papers which the children produced. This knowledge of the history and nature of beverage alcohol and its effects upon the human body should strengthen abstinence principles now and later.

Seventeen of these papers were forwarded to the county campaign director, who was pleased that a good percentage of them graded 90 per cent or over. She sent county prizes of books to Jacqueline Skinner, Ruth Armitage and Billie Dike.

For the North York Temperance Federation Oratorical Contest, Dr. S. J. Boyd, Geo. D. Wark and Dr. Wilson are putting up the prizes.

The winner from the senior group has the privilege of going on to the provincial contest to be held during the provincial convention in Toronto on March 8, 9 and 10. Those interested are asked to watch for further information about the county convention.

The subjects for oratorical contests are: The Social Effects of Alcohol; The Economic Waste of Alcohol; Alcohol in Relation to Crime; Intemperance and the Cure for It; Is the Moderate Drinker Safe?; Alcohol and Modern Life; Alcohol and the Home; Alcohol and Youth; The Case Against Booze; The Challenge to Sober Living; The Harmful Effects of Beer and Wine Drinking; Total Abstinence in the Light of Modern Living; Am I my Brother's Keeper? Should I abstain for the Sake of Others?; Alcohol or Gasoline, which? Temperance Legislation; Temperance in Athletics; Alcohol and Disease; Alcohol and Commerce; The Menace of the Present Beer Room System; The Christian Ethic and the Drink Problem.

Further information may be obtained from the Ontario Temperance Federation, 30 Bloor St. W., Toronto, or from Elma M. Starr, R.R. 3, Newmarket, convenor of the committee for "Childhood and Youth," for the North York Temperance Federation.

EVERSLEY 97TH NATAL DAY IS MARKED BY KING LADY

Congratulations are extended to Mrs. Glass of King City, who on Saturday celebrated the 97th anniversary of her birth at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. B. Wells.

Mrs. Glass received members of her family. She is a surprisingly bright old lady. The community is proud of King's grand old lady.

On Sunday the wind did blow, filling the air with snow, and interrupting church services. After days of calm this storm is definitely winter.

On Sunday morning a beautiful service of infant baptism was observed in Eversley Presbyterian church, when Edith Bak, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bak, was baptized. Rev. M. E. Burch officiated in a very interesting service. Little Edith was born in York County hospital on Dec. 11, 1933.

Eversley Young People's held their musical evening at Mrs. McClure's last Monday evening, with Marie Ball, the program convenor, and J. S. Wells in the chair.

There was a singing from the hymn sheets. Mrs. McClure read a story of "The Preacher's Vacation." Hilda Jones gave the history of "Breathe on me, Breath of God," and Marie Ball read a paper on music.

Rev. M. E. Burch rendered a piano solo, "The Dead March," and Frances Ross also gave a piano solo. Jas. Wells and Jim King sang, and a unique contest was held in which each person present sang what they said at roll call was their favorite song, all together. It was rare music that!

The W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. Norman Ferguson, Maple Avenue Farm, on Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance and a good service. Mrs. Lyle Wells read the Scripture from Isa. 19. Miss Annie Ferguson contributed a good paper and a duet was sung by Frances Ross and Jessie Gellatly, with Rev. M. E. Burch at the organ.

Mrs. Gellatly gave the current events, and Mrs. Jones gave a reading. Considerable business was launched, outlining work for the year. A social hour around the tea table concluded the meeting.

Schomberg

Stormy weather, with gales and more snow, made the going on the highways difficult over the weekend and snow ploughs were kept busy.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartford Perry of Winnipeg, Man., who are on a business trip in Ontario, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Marchant of Weston were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. E. Marchant and other relatives in town.

Mrs. E. Carter and son, Lorne, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McGowan.

Mrs. R. J. Hulse visited Mrs. J. Brydon for a few days last week.

The bridge club were hostesses at a mixed bridge on Wednesday night of last week in the Institute room, when husbands were the guests. Prizes were won by Dr. and Mrs. A. H. MacLeod.

The Anglican W.A. met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Brydon for a quilting. There was a good attendance.

The library board sponsored a euchre on Thursday night in the W. I. rooms, with a good turnout. Prizes were won by: 1st, ladies, Mrs. E. A. Stuckey; 2nd, Mrs. E. Smith; 2nd, gentlemen, Mr. Ramsay; 2nd, E. Dale.

The annual meeting of the Schomberg agricultural society was held on Saturday afternoon in the town hall. Officers elected for the year 1939 were: president, H. Carter; secretary, Dr. A. H. MacLeod; treasurer, H. Kaake.

KING CITY ELECT NEW CHURCH BOARDS FOR 1939

Laskay United church held their annual meeting last week, commencing with dinner at noon. The following officers were elected for 1939: committee of stewards: Leonard Glass, Jas. Hunter, E. Marshall, Marshall, McMurchy, Lewis, Marshall, Norman Bryson, E. Scott; Session: J. B. Ross, Lewis Scott, H. Ross, Wm. Bryson, D. McMurchy, P. Forrester; treasurer, Leonard Glass; organist, Miss Marjory McMurchy, ushers, Leslie Glass, Harold Dukes.

King United church held their annual supper and meeting on Wednesday evening. The officers were elected for 1939 as follows: committee of stewards, N. Hall, C. Folliott, W. McDonald, M. Payne, F. Willis, H. Folliott;

Session: C. Archibald, honorary, J. Dew, Sr., J. McAllister, G. Rumble, Wm. Carson, E. Thorpe, L. Kerswill; treasurer, J. Dew, Sr.; M. and M. treasurer, A. McBride; organist, Mrs. Ward; ushers, Ross Folliott, Austin Rumble.

The Y.P.U. met on Thursday evening and the meeting was in the charge of the assistant citizenship convenor, Jack Cliff. A special feature of the program was a talk and discussion by J. McAllister on "Fascism and Nazism." Alfred Barker sang "Duna." The union planned to have a tobogganing party on Wednesday, Jan. 25.

The majority of the churches in the surrounding district withdrew services on Sunday evening owing to climatic conditions and bad roads.

A dance was held in McDonald and Wells hall on Friday evening in aid of the King City hockey team. There was a record crowd. The dance was such a success that the committee, it is rumored, decided to hold a second dance on Friday, Feb. 17.

Miss Norma Legge was ill in bed last week with flu. It is hoped that Miss Legge is feeling better and able to return to her school.

SNOWBALL CHURCH SERVICE IS CANCELLED BY STORM

Owing to the severe snow-storm, no service was held in the United church on Sunday afternoon.

The annual congregational supper for the adherents of the United church will be held in the church basement on Tuesday evening, Jan. 31.

The following are the 1939 officers of the Women's Association: president, Mrs. C. Copson; vice-pres., Mrs. H. Haines; sec., Mrs. N. Teasdale; flower box, Mrs. H. Haines; Mrs. H. Patrick; dev. convenor, Mrs. W. Farren; prog. convenor, Mrs. B. Ferguson; lunch convenor, Mrs. John Morning.

The following are the Women's Missionary society officers for 1939: president, Mrs. J. Almonte Appleton; vice-pres., Mrs. C. Mitchell; sec.-treas., Mrs. C. White; Missionary Monthly convenor, Mrs. Maud Lavelle.

The February meeting will be held on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 8, at the home of Mrs. C. Mitchell.

Mr. Russell Farren of Huntsville is holidaying at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Farren, Sr.

Mrs. Painter of Toronto is spending a few days with Mrs. Telfer Shanks.

Mrs. Maud Lavelle was called to Toronto very unexpectedly on Monday last, owing to the death of her brother-in-law, T. H. Lewis.

Mrs. Lewis' death was very sudden and came as a shock to the family connection, as well as to his many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miner of North Bay spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mills.

Mrs. Ruth Webb of Toronto spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. H. C. Webb.

The snowball euchre club met on Friday evening last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Farren, Sr., reporting a total forty time. Winners were as follows: ladies' first, Miss Helen Lloyd; ladies' consolation, Mrs. Wm. Ash; ladies' travelling prize, Mrs. Albert Hodge; gentlemen's first, John Morning; gentlemen's consolation, George Painter; gentlemen's travelling prize, Harry Ferguson.

THE FURROW'S END

By LEONARD HARMAN

By chance I ran across a note in a news letter from the Canadian Youth Congress Movement. On first reading I had not been impressed by the significance of the activity of the Winnipeg Youth Council in a boycott against aggressor nations. The boycott has been organized by the Friends of China and other prominent groups including the ministerial association. "No truck nor trade, if it's Jap or German made!" was their Christmas slogan.

It would seem that the friends of China have lost their positive purpose and become enemies of Japan. True, we cannot support the policies of Hitler or of the Japanese war lords. But it might be better to have them making Christmas toys than armored tanks.

And another thing, these slogans of "no truck nor trade" make for worse international relations, which further jeopardize the cause of peace. Every time we are stirred to quit doing business with the Japanese or the Germans, we should consider what we are selling them. It is no self-denial to buy something made in Britain rather than something made in Japan. But it might be good for our national soul to refuse the industrial profits which lead us to provide materials of war. It has been charged that the war on the Chinese coast has been made possible by supplies from United States and Canada. If any of our readers have definite information or considered opinions on this subject I would appreciate discussion.

A writer in one of our farm magazines has a letter about John and Mary and John Jr., who want to start farming. John is unemployed in a great city. He is unskilled as an urban worker but both he and his wife have a farm background. The writer recommends that our government subsidize these folks with loans at favorable rates of interest and with other assistance and supervision in order to establish them on farms which are being abandoned by other folks. Something has to be done about providing rural youth with an opportunity to marry and establish homes. Every few days I run across some young man who would make a good farmer and a good citizen if he could get established. We need these people settling up family life as a constructive and stabilizing influence. Under present conditions only the fellow with considerable financial aid or with remarkable ability has any chance to make a go of starting farming.

Aside from the question of government expense connected with such a plan, there are several other considerations which we must face. If unestablished couples are to be subsidized how about the claims of those who have tried hard to farm and cannot make ends meet? If farm products sell below the cost of production can young people succeed even with the assistance of a subsidy? If there is already a surplus of farm production over effective demand will not an increase in the number of farmers further aggravate the situation and force prices lower?

I am becoming more and more impressed with one thing which must be done for Canadian agriculture. The price of farm products must be raised to a point where farm people may acquire purchasing power. Prices cannot be raised as long as we insist on producing beyond the market requirement. While we must make every effort to expand the demand for farm products we must gauge quantity and quality of production by that demand. If farm people had a chance to secure purchasing power we might not need to worry so much about people getting established in farming. There would remain problems in farm financing, but they would not be so acute. And we might realize that there is a limit to the number of people required for agricultural production.

David Myers, one of the public school boys, was awarded third prize on his temperance paper in the junior contest (10-11 years) under the W.C.T.U. for York and Peel counties. Congratulations are extended.

A very pleasant and profitable afternoon was spent by the 26 ladies who attended the Women's Institute meeting last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Wright. The roll call, "Economy Wrinkles," was well responded to. Mrs. Jas. Hennessey will represent the Vandorf Institute at the executive meeting of the Aurora horse show.

An evening of games is being arranged for Feb. 1 at Vandorf community hall by a committee under the patronage of Mrs. Chas. Richardson. The ladies of the Institute will provide lunch.

Mrs. De La Haye of Aurora gave a splendid paper on the homemaker—her efficiency and self-control—setting a high standard for the homemaker and giving much food for thought.

In the apron contest, Mrs. J. Hennessey was awarded first prize, and Mrs. C. Pattenden, second. A number of very fine aprons were shown. The judges were Mrs. De La Haye and Mrs. Borden.

After the singing of the national anthem, the hostesses served refreshments and a social half-hour was enjoyed over the tea-cups.

Mrs. Jos. Brown of Newmarket and Mrs. Ralph Willis spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bennett of Victoria Square and attended the funeral of Rev. Wm. Haig on Monday.

Mr. Haig was a former pastor of Mrs. Willis.

Misses Mabel Carr and Marion VanNostrand spent the weekend with friends in King.

Misses Ruth Oliver and Audrey Switzer spent the weekend in Toronto.

Seven members of the Institute met at the home of Mrs. E. A. Cale last Thursday afternoon and were successful in quilting the quilt piece by the members last fall, and Mrs. Cale kindly offered to bind it.

Friends are glad to know that Mrs. Albert VanNostrand is improving nicely after her serious illness of a few weeks ago.

Cedar Valley

The school hockey team played Vandorf school last Saturday with a score of 4-2 in favor of the local team.

Ray McClure is playing with the Sharon team in the mercantile league.

The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Leslie Rose last Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Elmer Starr, convenor of the committee for education, took charge of the meeting. In the absence of Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. J. Hope read her paper on the life of Frances Willard. A dainty lunch was served by the committee in charge.

A subscription to The Era will make a friend happy.

This is the mode of procedure:

Reserve a good-sized piece of the leaf lard—the thick white un-melted lard. Put this away to keep cool, till the skins have been well cleaned by frequent turnings and changings of the salt water. Mix oatmeal—the finer kind—not rolled—with the finely cut up lard. Add salt and pepper, fill the skins loosely, tying one end—then when filled—the other. Prick with a needle and drop in a kettle of boiling water and boil one hour. They plump right up when put into the water. They are eaten hot, either steamed or boiled in a little water, as they must be hot right through and eaten hot or if cold the lard is sticky.

Some people use suet instead of the leaf lard, but we prefer the latter. That had always been a part of our Sunday dinner during the winter, as long as they lasted.

DEMOCRACY

By MURIEL THORPE

Will 'democracy remain supreme? This is a question that has been uppermost in the majority of people's thoughts for some time and is becoming more vital. In September, when the leading statesmen of the outstanding democratic countries taxed their ingenuity to maintain peace, democracy was given a trying time.

Since the Munich pact, signed in Germany, international affairs seem to have become rather shaky. Will democracy come out of the mess unscathed?

There are a great many defects in this system, but they cannot be advantageously remedied by the substitution of communism or fascism or any of the other isms. They must be remedied by a solution within the system.

The democratic countries want peace. There will not be contentment if such countries fall under a dictatorship. There will not be contentment until all the countries can and will settle differences in a civilized manner. This calls for a world court. Toward this end, the countries must not be impatient. It required hundreds of years to build up the criminal law and the civil law. It may take generations to give a sure foundation to international law.

Democracy stands for free education, free religion and civilization. At present, it seems to be a race by this fairly high standard against hate, greed, barbarism and war. Every citizen of the country can help to avert this race by lending a helping hand, no matter how small, in building a peace-minded world. Start with a decision to live for humanity, not for self.

Democracy can be saved by maintaining peace. To this end re-armament should be reduced by the arms industry being nationalized and the trade in arms being under international control. If there is no world war and munitions increase, taxes will become unbearable and it is well-known that "taxes" is anything but a pleasant topic at present. If the countries want to strangle their youth with taxes they must continue to re-arm.

The youth of democratic countries must educate themselves to fill positions as representatives of the people in government. This is essential to save democracy, because at present too many men are representing the country with too little education in political affairs.

"A thousand years scarce serve to form a state. An hour may lay it in the dust."—Byron.

Joe—"Well, did you and your wife get your quarrel patched up?"

Sam—"Naw, we never patch 'em up; we start new ones."

Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They lie down and lie awake and cannot sleep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys.
Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and sleeplessness, headaches, backaches follow. If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills—

YOUNG CHIPS IS DISTURBED

BY RUTH DINGMAN REED

"How did you make out during yesterday's storm," Woody Woodpecker asked his friend, Nutty Nuthatch.

"I nearly starved all day," replied Nutty. "A couple of times I started to venture out of my snug shelter, to get something to eat, but I nearly got blown away every time."

"I decided that the wisest thing was to sleep all day, and not try to go out, so that's what I did," Woody said. "But I'm certainly famished today, and food is terribly hard to get."

"I haven't seen Young Chips, or any of his relatives, this morning," said Nutty. "I wonder if he could possibly have perished in the blizzard."

"Not he," said Woody. "The very thought is ridiculous. He and his friends can look after themselves in the coldest weather."

"Why, speak of the devil . . ."
said Nutty. "Here is the gentleman himself. What have you been doing?"

"I've been flying as fast as I could to get here," gasped the Chickadee breathlessly. "And I'm certainly glad to be here."

"Why, what on earth's up?"
asked his friends. "Is something wrong?"

"Yes, there was," explained Chips. "Although speaking for myself, I think that the danger is over. I had gone a short way out of town, looking for food. I realize now that I would probably have done far better if I had stayed around houses, because food might have been put out for us."

"Anyway, I was on the edge of a woods, and happened to be looking overhead, as I thought it seemed to be starting to snow again, when I saw a Red-tailed Hawk circling slowly overhead. I was terribly alarmed, because I thought he might easily have seen me moving about down below. I had been jumping about at a great rate. And not only that, but I wasn't alone. I was with some Goldfinches, and you know how they flit and skip about. I gave the warning and we all made a dive for the woods.
And I have been flying as fast as I could ever since, and here I am."

"How do you know it was a Red-tailed Hawk?" asked Woody.
"Because it was very large and I could see its broad red tail. I knew it wasn't a Rough-leg, because its legs weren't all covered with feathers and it wasn't small enough for a Red-shouldered Hawk. It also had an unspotted circular area on its breast, such as the Red-tailed hawk."

"I guess you know what you are talking about," concluded Nutty. "But the Hawk was probably hunting for mice, or poultry, if it was near a farmyard."

"I'm not so sure about that," said Young Chips. "There certainly wouldn't be any poultry out in this weather, and I think it would be very difficult for a Hawk to catch mice under all that snow, even if he were hunting mice."

"Yes, I suppose small birds would be easier just now, although under ordinary circumstances they don't kill many small birds," decided Nutty.

Just as Nutty reached this disturbance conclusion, Woody shrieked out: "There he is again, Young Chips! We'd better move away."

"I don't believe it is the Red-tailed Hawk," said Nutty, after taking a careful but hurried look.
"It's large, like the Red-tail, but its legs are feathered right down to the toes, and you can see black markings on its underparts and stripes on its breast and throat.
It's a Rough-Leg."

"He certainly hasn't got the red tail of the other chap," agreed Woody. "And this one is the most harmless of all the Hawks.
He's flying low, and I guess he's hungry, but he's mousing. He lives chiefly on mice. He's the greatest mouser of all the Hawks.
Let's be calm and collected about this."

"I say let's be sensible and beat it," urged Young Chips. "I convinced you that the Red-tail was out bird hunting, and now this one is, too."

"Nonsense," the other answered. "This chap hardly ever eats birds. He's looking for mice, I tell you."

"He's not finding any," mumbled Chips in a low voice. "and if I get eaten up, I hope you both die of remorse."

"Don't be an idiot," snapped Woody. "I'm not advising you to go out and fly under his nose, because that would be putting temptation in his path, but I think you should regard that Hawk as a very useful person.
So are some of the other Hawks, for that matter. The farmer who shoots a Hawk is very often shooting someone who helps him a great deal, by eating up his mice."

"It makes me positively sick to hear a bird of your size uttering words such as those," said Young Chips.

"I can understand your feelings, Chips," said Nutty. "But I do think we smaller birds have got to be more broad-minded about these things in this day and age. After all, we know more about such things than we did a few years ago."

"I'll think it over," promised Young Chips. But he hurried away, looking back over his shoulder frequently in the direction of the Rough-Legged Hawk's last appearance.

Aurora Had One Phone Less Than Newmarket In Year 1887

A little book that looks like a dime novel, now in the possession of Harold McLelland, Newmarket, district manager of the Bell Telephone Co., contains a list of all the Bell company's telephones in Ontario in the distant year of 1887.

It took 65 pages, with less than 30 names on a page, to list the telephones of the city of Toronto.

Newmarket's phones numbered 29, compared to 831 today. They were L. Atkinson, jeweller, Main

FOUNDER COMES BACK
FOR 10TH BIRTHDAY

The tenth anniversary of the Velma Widdfield mission circle of Trinity United church was held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Maitland on Friday evening, Jan. 20.

The president, Miss Jean Boyd, conducted an interesting devotional period and presided throughout the meeting.

Those present included Mrs. A. E.
Marshall, Miss Jessie Marshall, Miss Eileen Boyd, Miss Jean Hamilton and Miss Eira Currey, of Toronto.

Mrs. M. B. Seldon, president of the Woman's Missionary society auxiliary, installed the following officers for 1938: Miss Jean Boyd, pres.; Miss Viola Rae, 1st vice-pres.; Mrs. A. E. Rutledge, sec.; Miss Mary McCloyment, treas.; Miss Kathleen Rutledge, community friendship sec.; Miss Lelia Pipher, temperance sec.

Miss Jean Hunter, one of the first members of the circle, contributed two beautiful solos, "The Little Brack Sheep," and "Vespers," by A. A. Milne.

A history of the circle was given by Mrs. J. A. Maitland.

The circle was organized Jan.
28, 1929, by Mrs. A. E. Marshall, assisted by Mrs. W. J. Thompson.
The name, Velma Widdfield, was chosen in honor of Miss Widd-field, a life-long enthusiast in missionary work.

Mrs. A. E. Marshall was the first honorary president or leader. In 1930 Mrs. J. A. Maitland was appointed honorary president.
Three of the first executive, Mrs.
Marshall, Miss Edith McCloyment and Miss Eileen Boyd, were present.

Eleven answered the roll call of 1929, Mrs. Marshall, Miss Jessie Marshall, Miss Velma Widdfield, Mrs. Thompson, Miss Florence Cole,
Miss Jean Hunter, Miss Edith McCloyment, Miss Eileen Boyd, Miss Kathleen Rutledge, Miss Eira Currey, now a home missionary in Queen St. United church, Toronto, and Mrs. Norman Parks.

During the ten years, the circle have had some interesting speakers from foreign mission fields, including Dr. Retta Gifford Kilborn, China, Mrs. E. W. Edmonds, China,
Mrs. Gates, India, Mrs. Williams,
India, Sada Nawast, Japan, Miss Garrett, a world traveller, and others, also Miss Eira Currey, home missions, Toronto.

Each winter for six years, bales of clothing and toys have been sent to Sask., also garments to mission hospitals in northern Ontario. In closing, Mrs. Maitland stressed the work of the circle as the "extension of the Kingdom of God at home and throughout the world. There is no other solution for the ills of the world today," she said.

Mrs. Marshall expressed pleasure as organizer in being present. Mrs.
Marshall urged living so that our religion would attract others, living with the enthusiasm for Christianity that a salesman has for his business, living so that our religion
"would sell."

Mrs. Thompson spoke of the wonderful Christian faith of Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-shek, saying they still believe China will win in the war with Japan. Mrs. R. R. McMath extended greetings, expressing pleasure at sharing in this tenth anniversary. Ten dollars was received in collection.

The social committee served refreshments during the social hour at the close of the meeting.

The evening throughout was a happy reunion, and all enjoyed the replay event, the tenth anniversary of the Velma Widdfield mission circle.

COUNCIL SURPRISED AT MORNING POWER PEAK

Compared with $3,167 in December, 1937, the Ontario Hydro-Electric's December bill was $3,292, as passed by the town council on Monday evening.

"It was a morning peak," said
C. C. Rachar, electrical engineer.
"In December?" queried Mr.
Mathews.

"Yes," confirmed Mr. Rachar.
It has been explained at previous council meetings that the town's monthly bill for power is based on the maximum demand for any 20-minute period during the month. This peak usually occurs between 5 and 6 p.m. in the winter months.

"It's the largest number of vital statistics you have ever had in Newmarket," said N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk and solicitor, when the account for registration of vital statistics came before the council.

"It includes York county hospital, doesn't it?" asked Mayor Dr.
S. J. Boyd.

"Yes," said Mr. Mathews.

There were 231 births, 34 marriages and 79 deaths.

Accounts passed included: Person's Flower Shop, $10; Lyons' Meat Market, $12.90; W. H. Eves,
$9.70; J. E. Nesbitt, $1; Office
Specialty Mfg. Co., $23.85; C.N.R., $14.62; $2.89; Bell Telephone Co.,
$26.20; Thompson's Machine Shop,
$1.25; Filley & Gordon, $7.86;
Newmarket Farmers' Co-operative, $7.65; R. L. Boag, 65 cents; Helmkay Transport, 35 cents; J.
O. Little, $56.25; Newmarket Era,
$66.75; Kenneth Mount, $8.60;
James Sloss, $12; Cousins Dairy,
$1.25; F. H. Robinson, $31.12;
$23. $26; N. L. Mathews, vital statistics, $86; Goodman's Auto Wreckers, $5; Hydro-Electric Power Commission, $3,292.90; East Gwillimbury, a number of relief accounts, referred to clerk; Smith's Hardware, $20.56.

tunity to benefit from the various courses with the exception of shop work and economics."

"The teachers are qualified for their present duties." Discipline, excellent. Attendance: 331: 154 boys, 177 girls. All regularly attended. Textbooks: All authorized. Registers: Neatly entered.
Catalogue of equipment: Entered to date. English literature texts in lower school: A satisfactory selection has been made.

Supplementary reading: Tested chiefly by discussion and oral work. Sight translation in foreign languages: One period per week. Additions to classroom decorations: None. Fire-drill: Practised on an average of twice each month. Work of janitor:
Very satisfactory.

"All of the teaching which I observed was satisfactory; some of it was of a very high order.
The two teachers who were added to the staff in September last have made a good beginning and will do well in their chosen profession."

"Methods of teaching and general matters relating to the school and its work were discussed with individual teachers and in a general meeting of the staff."

"The spelling of the pupils of Grade IX was definitely better than the average. In writing and in reading their work was also very satisfactory. Suitable progress has been made in bookkeeping. Neatness and accuracy are insisted upon. The same is true of business practice."

"The work in art, including several projects, is being well done. The pupils are benefitting from their new quarters. The science notebooks are being prepared with much care. Diagrams and drawings are carefully done and properly marked. Projects have been effectively carried out in geography."

"Classes in physical training are being conducted in such a way as to bring lasting benefit to the boys and girls."

"Interest in music is much in evidence. One class which I observed was occupied in playing musical numbers on pipes of their own manufacture."

"Office work is being ably handled by Miss Atkins."

"It has been a pleasure to visit this school and to note that the high standard which has characterized it in the past is being maintained. The principal has the school well organized and is supported by a capable and loyal staff. One is impressed with the fine tone of the school. The conduct of the pupils in classroom and corridor was excellent and discipline without undue restraint. Their conduct is not only a credit to them and their teachers but also to the homes from which they come. Recognition of the highly satisfactory results of the departmental examinations in June should also be made."

"The fine condition of the building has its part in the success of the pupils. Classrooms and corridors are light and airy and are kept clean and attractive by the janitor. The walls are decorated with an unusually fine collection of pictures."

"The recent adverse decision with regard to the addition of a wing to the present building to provide for the courses in shopwork and home economics raises the question as to whether some adjustment cannot be made in the present building for the purpose. The value of this type of training to boys and girls has been demonstrated for years in various centres of the province.
It is of value, both from a practical and an educational point of view, to all pupils but particularly to those who are enabled to discover through it the type of activity they can most successfully pursue after leaving school."

"The question of medical certificates was raised in the meeting with the principal and staff and afterwards briefly reviewed in an informal discussion with members of the board."

"It had the pleasure of discussing school matters with the following members of the board:
Mr. Patterson, Mr. Binns, the Rev. Dr. Muckle, Mr. Chantler and Mr. Geer."

CAME OF PIONEER
WHITCHURCH FAMILY

After a lingering illness, following a stroke last April, Mrs.
Anthony Brown, formerly Maria
Dyke, passed peacefully away Jan.
19.

Mrs. Brown was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dyke, her grandparents being pioneers of Whitchurch township. She was formerly an active member of the Methodist church, but later joined the Friends church. She was also a former active member of the W.C.T.U., being superintendent of the Little White Ribboners' department.

Mrs. Brown leaves to mourn the loss of a devoted mother, one daughter, Mrs. W. Henry of Newmarket; one son, Kenneth Brown, Toronto; five grandchildren; four

MOUNT ALBERT LEG IS BROKEN IN FALL ON ICY STEPS

Mrs. Dan Cook has returned from an extended visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. Cook, of Woodbridge.

Miss Hilda Wagg of Niagara township was a visitor this week at the home of her uncle, Mr. E. Wagg.

Mr. Geo. Stokes of New Toronto has been home for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. F. Cook has gone to Toronto to spend the winter with relatives.

The members of the I.O.O.F. held a ladies' night on Wednesday evening of last week in the form of a euchre party. Mrs. A. Harrison and Mr. G. Barnes were successful in carrying off the two first prizes and the consolation prizes went to Mr. R. Harrison and Mrs. W. R. Steeper. As this was the first social evening since Joseph Jardine, a member of the lodge, had moved from the village, they took the opportunity to present him and Mrs. Jardine with a lovely electric table lamp.

Angus Harrison read a short address and L. Pearson made the presentation. Mrs. Ashton Rice brought won the prize at the crockle table. Lunch was served and everyone pronounced it a very enjoyable evening.

The annual horticultural meeting on Tuesday evening of last week, which took the place of a banquet, in the United church, was attended by over 100 members and their friends and afterwards a very fine supper was served.

The election of officers for the new year took place, which was as follows: pres. Dr. W. L. Carruthers, 1st vice-pres. Dawson Dike; 2nd vice-pres. S. Harper. The new directors are: W. S. Robertson, Harold Broderick, Mrs. Roy Stewart, Mrs. Stuart Thompson and Mrs. B. Stiver.

The speaker of the evening was Geo. Rush of the branch of fruits and vegetables in the department of agriculture, who gave a very interesting talk on these subjects, which was also illustrated by slides. He gave some very useful information along gardening lines.

Mr. Topper of Richmond Hill who had been judge at the fall flower show, gave some constructive criticisms on showing flowers.

Rev. R. V. Wilson rendered several violin solos, accompanied by Miss Driver at the piano and the Misses Betty and Margaret Ross gave several selections on their guitars, all of which everyone enjoyed. The society has got away to a good start for this year, and would suggest that now is the time to join up.

Mrs. W. Hayes of Toronto and son, Bruce, of Oshawa, were calling on friends in town one day last week.

Miss Florence Pitt of Markham was a weekend visitor at the home of her uncle, Mr. H. Leadbetter.

Master Douglas Ross had a bad fall while skating on Saturday on the rink. He fell on one of the other boy's skates and had one of his teeth broken out and the roof of his mouth cut so badly that it was necessary to have a stitch put in by the doctor.

Mrs. Harold Hayes had the misfortune to slip on the steps outside her home on Saturday morning and fractured both bones in her leg. She was taken to York county hospital, where it was x-rayed and put in a cast and she will be in bed for some weeks.

The Women's Institute, who were holding a banquet in February, have changed the date and it will be held in March instead.

The usual meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Steeper on Thursday, Feb. 9.

Mr. Jas. Hammett left on Friday of last week for a holiday trip to Bermuda.

The storms on Sunday and the condition of the roads kept most people indoors and church and Sunday-school had rather small attendance.

Mr. Byron Silver is in the city attending county council.

Mr. Jerry Graham of the Dominion Bank staff has been quite ill at his home at Udon.

MOUNT ALBERT ROLLING - CLEMENT NUPRIALS SOLEMNIZED

A quiet wedding was solemnized in the United church parsonage, Churchill, on Wednesday, Jan. 15, when Gladys Margaret, younger daughter of Mrs. Clement and the late Robert Clement, Churchill, became the bride of Frederick Bruce Rolling, only son of Mrs. Rolling and the late Herbert Rolling, Mount Albert. Rev. Fred Berner officiated.

The bride, who was unattended, was charmingly gowned in Windsor rose sheer over taffeta, with navy sheer jacket and navy accessories.

CHRISTADELPHIANS

The Scriptures reveal: That there is only one God, the Father of all, even of the Lord Jesus Christ and therefore, the common idea that there are three Gods in one is unsupportable.

1 TIM. 2:5 DEUT. 6:4 1 COR. 8:8 2 COR. 1:3

Jesus Christ, the Son of God, (not God the Son) received his power and wisdom from God.

She carried a shower bouquet of lilies, roses, baby's breath and fern.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, for the immediate families of the bride and groom. Later the couple left for points south, the bride travelling in a wine two-piece knitted suit with matching hat, navy coat and navy accessories. She carried the groom's gift, a travel twin set of aeropack and vanity. They will reside in Mount Albert.

QUEENSVILLE QUEENSVILLE MERCURY DROPS TO 17 BELOW

The annual meeting of Queensville W. M. S. was held at the home of Mrs. Norris on Thursday, Jan. 19. Mrs. Cowieson presided over the first part of the meeting. It was then handed over to Rev. Hugh Shannon for the election of officers, which resulted as follows: hon. pres., Mrs. J. I. Cowieson; president, Mrs. Hugh Shannon; vice pres., Mrs. MacKenzie; sec. treas., Mrs. Norris; corr. sec., Mrs. Ross Grier; strangers' committee, Mrs. G. Cole, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. MacKenzie; Christian stewardship, Mrs. Stickwood; Missionary Monthly sec., Mrs. Albert Milne.

Kind words of appreciation were tendered to Mrs. Cowieson, past president, for her services during the past years. Mr. Shannon spoke of the very valuable work of the W. M. S. and gave the ladies some very encouraging words. All the ladies of the congregation are invited to attend these interesting meetings.

Changeable weather has been the order of the day here for the last week. Sunday, raging storms made it necessary to postpone church services in the afternoon and evening. Monday was bright but very cold and Tuesday very mild with a heavy snow fall. On Wednesday a raging northwest wind put the mercury down to 17 degrees below zero.

Library Add To Shelves Queensville public library has added a number of new books to its shelves and it will be of interest to all non subscribers to see about joining.

Capt. Robt. Mowers and daughter, Edith, of Pickering River, spent last weekend visiting Mr. J. B. Aylward.

Sympathy is extended to the bereaved friends and relatives of the late Mr. Sylvester King, who died on Saturday. The funeral service was held from his late residence on Monday. Interment was made in Queensville cemetery.

Miss Dorothy Bunker spent last weekend at the Eves home. Miss Patricia O'Dell of Jackson's Point spent last weekend at the Kavanagh home.

Mrs. Mangold has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Hodgson, who has been ill.

Miss Audrey Pearson of McMaster University, Hamilton is spending this week at her home here.

Miss Mary Clarke of Whitby and Mr. Verne Clarke of Toronto spent last weekend at the King home.

Mrs. Leonard Milne spent last weekend at her home near Glenville.

Pleasantville

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hope and Miss Betty of Pine Orchard spent Saturday at Willowdale and Toronto.

Miss Frances Stickwood spent the weekend with her cousin in Toronto, Miss Violet Stanford.

Mr. Jack Sheridan visited a friend in Toronto on Sunday.

Owing to the dreadful stormy Sunday the Sunday-school and church service were cancelled at the United church in the afternoon.

On Wednesday, Feb. 1, the Young Workers are to be the guests of Mrs. D. McIntyre in Newmarket. A good program is being prepared and good weather and good health are hoped for, so that a good number may be present.

There was a good attendance at Bogartown club last Friday night. W. M. Cockburn of the department of agriculture gave some very interesting pictures of important places in York county.

The next meeting will be on Feb. 3. Miss Mazo Ostley will be in charge of the program.

In spite of a very disagreeable day last Wednesday, a large number turned out at the monthly Institute meeting at the home of Mrs. Leslie Rose, Cedar Valley.

After the business part of the meeting, Mrs. Elma Starr took charge and the reported on the temperance work done by the school children.

The Institute have also decided to gather all papers, magazines, etc., to sell. These papers are being gathered by the girls of the "Project class," so everyone is asked to please have them ready when they are being called for.

The girls' project class will meet again on Saturday, Feb. 4, at the home of Miss Norma Drury, Bogartown.

A speedy recovery is wished for all those ill in this district, who include Mrs. Chas. Howlett, who is seriously ill, and Mr. Levi Buyer, who is ill following the removal of some teeth; Mrs. Roy Howlett, with a severe cold, and Mrs. George Grose, who is in York county hospital.

The weekly prayer meeting will be held next Monday night at the home of Mrs. Gordon McEure.

MOUNT PLEASANT HOLD SHOWER FOR BRIDE AND GROOM

There was no church on Sunday owing to the heavy storm that raged all day.

The congregational meeting was held on Monday afternoon of last week.

Men are busy hauling wood home.

Whooping cough is paying its visits to some homes.

A shower was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis (nee Miss Annie Davidson) last Wednesday evening, when about 80 of their friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. Robt. Davidson and presented them with many beautiful gifts.

Annie and Harry will be greatly missed in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis have gone to live at Lambton Mills, Toronto.

Miss Bertie Hopkins, who has been visiting in Keswick, has returned home.

Zephyr

The regular meeting of Zephyr Y. P. S. was presided over by Mona Armstrong, convener of Christian missions. A scripture reading from Romans was given by Howard Walker and a prayer by Velma Neal.

A reading was given by Clarkson Arnold on friendship and a piano solo by Donald Murray.

A reading was given by Miss Hornby on "McCallum Saga in Ontario," and a poem by Robert Burns on "Happiness" was read by Mona Armstrong.

The meeting closed by singing a hymn and the benediction. A social half-hour was followed by games.

At the half-way mark in the inter-community hockey league in Sutton, the Zephyr boys are still leading the parade with no defeats in three starts.

The boys are playing a good clean, fast game that is crowd-pleasing and full of excitement. As they swing into the second round they will be trying hard to pile up the points as the sight of that silver cup is coaxing them on.

This week Zephyr meets Baldwin, while Jackson's Point meets Pefferlaw in the other half of the double-header.

Hope

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rozall, Clarence and Jack, from Clinton, visited Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Micks on Monday.

Mrs. Charles Boyd from Orillia has spent the last week visiting her sister, Mrs. Stanley Boyd.

The hobby club has appointed their officers for the coming year. Mrs. W. Wilnot, president, Mrs. L. Farr, vice-president, Miss Lottie Tansley, sec.-treas., Miss Grace Barker, pianist, and Miss Bernice Mount, ass't pianist.

The Women's Association will hold their first monthly meeting and supper in the church on Thursday, Feb. 2. The hostesses were Mrs. A. Dike, Mrs. Anley Brenair, Mrs. Robert Stickwood and Mrs. Geo. Barker. A good program is expected.

The church services will be held at the usual time next Sunday. Sunday-school will be at 2 p.m. and church service at 3 p.m. Everyone is welcome at both services.

VICTORIA SQUARE VILLAGE LOSES TWO CITIZENS THRU DEATH

The arm of death struck twice in this community last week, claiming the lives of Mr. George Frisby and the Rev. Wm. M. Haig.

Mr. Frisby, who was in his 86th year, passed away at the home of his nephew, Mr. Alvin Frisby, on Thursday. He had been in ill health for some time. He was a member of one of the oldest families at Victoria Square. The funeral was at Victoria Square on Saturday afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Haig passed away at his home on Friday morning in his 78th year. He, too, had been in ill health for some time, with a heart condition. His passing will be a great loss to the Christian life of this community, as he never passed up an opportunity to speak a word for his Lord and Master. He was the pastor at Victoria Square for a number of years, and after his superannuation he returned to reside at the farm home of his brother-in-law, Mr. Harry Bennett.

The funeral service was held at the home at eleven o'clock on Monday morning, the remains being sent immediately afterwards to Baltimore, Ont., where interment was made. There are left to mourn his loss, his wife, the former Margaret Goforth, niece of the noted missionary, the late Dr. Jonathan Goforth, and one daughter, Mrs. Harold Burwash of Agincourt, also a host of friends in every Christian denomination at Victoria Square and elsewhere.

The members of the short course being held at Victoria Square motored to Toronto on Tuesday of last week and visited a number of the large industrial centres there. They joined with members of several similar classes that are being held in other counties and visited a large rubber company, the Union Stockyards and a meat-packing plant. One of the items of entertainment was to judge the best-looking gentleman in the crowd, with the honors going to Fred LeBeck of Victoria Square. Congratulations are extended to Fred. The series of splendid revival meetings that have been in progress at the Gormley Menomonee church were brought to a close last Friday night with Rev. Cyril Berry of Gowanstown, Ont., bringing the final message. Mr. Berry is a former member of the Gormley church and a graduate of the Ontario Bible College, which, until this winter, was located at Gormley. His message was a great inspiration to all present. The Henderson girls' trio also brought two lovely messages in song.

The congregation of the United church held their annual meeting on Monday evening, commencing with a supper served by the Ladies. Very encouraging reports were presented by all the organizations of the church. The receipts for the year amounted to $1241.78. This was quite apart from the sums raised by the various organizations for their own use. Receipts for the cemetery fund were $170.17, and for the parsonage fund, $721.01. The vacancy in the session made by the death of Rev. Mr. Haig was filled by the appointment of L. L. Nicholls.

R. F. Boynton was also re-elected to the session for a period of five years.

Vacancies on the board of stewards were filled by the appointment of Herman Mortson, P. W. Willows, Harry Barber and Robt. Beatty for three years. R. E. Sanderson and Mrs. Ralph Perkins were re-elected as choir-leader and organist respectively, with Miss Mabel Sanderson as assistant organist. Rev. John Macdonald acted as chairman for the meeting, with Fraser Gee as secretary.

ASHWORTH RURAL CHURCH MAKES MANY IMPROVEMENTS

Ashworth United church congregational meeting was held on Jan. 20. Supper was served in the new basement of the church and was well attended. Very gratifying reports were submitted by the Sunday-school, Young People's society, Ladies' Aid, treasurer and minister, which indicated that much progress had been made by all departments.

During 1938 church property had been improved with a basement, new furnace, Hydro was installed and the church painted and decorated, quite a program for any congregation.

A vote of thanks was extended to W. H. Brent for the gift of the electric fixtures, also to the Rev. Geo. Murray for faithful and efficient services.

Mr. Murray congratulated the congregation on the splendid reports and made reference to co-operation in the cause of Christ. Officers were elected for 1939 for church and Sunday-school. The future is very promising for this progressive congregation which meets on Sunday at 11 a.m.

HOSPITAL HAS FEW PATIENTS LATELY

There have been less patients at York county hospital during the last month than for some years past, and the hospital, frequently short of accommodation, has been operating at a loss.

KETTLEBY BAPTIST LADIES' AID ELECTS EXECUTIVE

Mr. and Mrs. John Lawson of King were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Black on Friday last.

Mrs. Roy Sharpe of Glenville spent several days last week with Mrs. R. Hughey.

Mr. Frank Davis is under the doctor's care.

Miss Jean Curtis visited several days this week with her cousin, Miss Barbara Clarkson.

The congregational meeting of the United church will be held in the church on Friday evening, Jan. 27. The members and adherents are requested to attend.

Miss Margaret Sykes of Toronto was a weekend visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stephenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sibley and Mr. and Mrs. McPherson of Toronto were weekend visitors at the home of Mrs. R. Hughey.

Mrs. Walter Clarkson spent several days in Toronto this week. Messrs. Chalmers and Edgar Black, and Mrs. J. Ramsden, of Newmarket and Mr. J. F. Curtis attended the funeral of the late Mr. Reuben Lighthouse at Snelgrove on Tuesday of this week.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Ephraim Clarkson on Wednesday of last week and the following executive was formed: hon. pres., Mrs. Galloway; president, Mrs. Walter Clarkson; vice-pres., Mrs. C. Black; secretary, Mrs. Harry Webster; ass't secretary, Miss Laura Black; treasurer, Miss Jessie Elliott; ass't, Mrs. Stanley Barradell; flower committee, Mrs. Wm. Wilson, Mrs. C. Black, Mrs. E. Clarkson; organist, Mrs. C. Black.

A euchre party is to be held in the parish hall on Friday evening, Feb. 3, under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild of Christ church. Lunch will be provided. Everybody is welcome. There will be prizes.

The annual congregational meeting will be held on Friday night in the United church.

The crokinole party on Tuesday night, under the auspices of the United church W.A., was a success, considering the bad roads. Mrs. Curtis had the highest score for the ladies and Mrs. Crawford came second. P. Corbin had the highest score for the men and Roy Geer came second. Everyone had a good time, especially the children.

A number from this village went to Schomberg rink to skate Thursday night and expect to go again this week. It is regrettable to think there is no rink here since the millpond went.

Mrs. Chas. West spent a couple of days last week in Toronto with her daughter, Mrs. Clarence James.

The W. A. and W. M. S. meet at the parsonage next Wednesday, Feb. 1.

worth needn't worry. He will never have to buy a privy councillor's uniform."

Mr. Stewart is right. Mr. Woodworth will never wear any uniform. But Mr. Stewart will love it. Mr. Stewart will get his uniform. Mr. Woodworth will merely deserve it.

ANOTHER ROAD

Now let us take a look at that lofty peak on which stands George McCullagh, lifted by the millions of dollars which made him editor of the Globe and Mail. Evidently mistrusting the power of his editorial columns, Mr. McCullagh has taken to the air.

We heard him on Sunday. Mr. McCullagh is worried about taxes. Per capita income in Canada is $438, from which is yearly deducted $121 in taxes. This is bad, says Mr. McCullagh, and we agree with him.

The solution? Mr. McCullagh would have us do two things; restrict our demands on the government, and wipe out all provincial governments.

And that, ladies and gentlemen, is the voice of another lone-some road. We'll listen in next Sunday and report if he wanders off the pathway.

N.H.S. HOCKEY LADS HEAD DISTRICT LEAGUE

Pickering seconds went down to defeat at the hands of Newmarket high school on Tuesday afternoon by a score of 6-3. Referees were G. N. T. Widdrington and Bruce Prest.

Pickering started out strong, making it 2-0 at the end of the first period. Bill Jelley got two for the high school in the second, to tie the score.

In the third period Pickering had a new goaltender. Jack Luck scored one from behind, and then the college evned it up again. Howard Hamilton got the next one on a pretty play, drawing the goalie out and slipping the puck behind him.

McInnes and Luck each got nice ones to make the final score 6-3. North York High.

DAVIS AND SPECIALTY NOSE OUT VICTORIES

By GEO. HASKETT, JR.

The mercantile hockey games, at the local arena, on Tuesday evening, provided the usual spills and thrills that these games are becoming famous for among the local hockey fans.

The public likes the interest Newmanet high school, represented by Robert Dick, teacher, and Bruce Prest, student, are taking in the league. These two gentlemen refereed very acceptably. It is understood that the high school is out to develop student referees.

The opening contest saw the Davls squad hooking up with the town puck-chasers. This proved to be a hard-fought struggle, with the Davls clan having a slight edge over their rivals throughout the entire game, to earn a 5-3 verdict.

The tanners ran in two goals in the first period, on solo efforts by H. Brown and G. Bone. The towners made the count 2-1 before the end of this period, when D. Hartford scored on a nice shot from his left wing spot, that had "Jing" Groves, the tannery netminder, beaten all the way.

The leather boys added a couple more counters in the second stanza. H. Brown and A. Harden getting these on very impressive solo efforts. The best the Main St. lads could do was another neat counter, Hartford again scoring. In the final period, Hartford knocked in his third counter for the townites, from a scramble in front of the tannery net.

The leather gang kept up the pressure and H. Brown got his third counter of the night, about half way through the period, to make the final score 5-3 for the tannery boys.

For Davis', Brown with his three goals, and Bone with his fine rushes and good defensive work, drew down top honors.

For the townites, Hartford with his three counters and Mathewson, for his show of plenty of fight throughout the game, were tops.

Davis Leather: goal, Groves; defence, Smart, Bone; centre, Watts; wings, Harden, Brown; alts. W. Townsley, H. Townsley, Evans, Dobbie.

Town of Newmarket: goal, Draper; defence, O'Connor, Smith; centre, Mathewson; wings, Hartford, Burnham; alts. Blair, Lyall.

Specialty Finds Sharon Tough The second game, between the Office Specialty and Sharon, proved to be one of the best games to date in the mercantile, and the Specialty had to extend themselves to the fullest to edge out a 1-0 victory over the spunky Sharonites.

The only goal of the game came from the stick of Johnny O'Halloran, the centre star of the Green-shirts, during one of many scrambles in front of the Sharon citadel. Despite the fact that knees and elbows were used freely by both squads, throughout, there were few penalties. There was never a dull moment, as first one club, then the other, ganged up in front of their opponents' nets, and sticks flew fast and furious in an effort to bang in a counter.

Though the Sharon boys were long on fight and speed, they were unable to get the old side behind

CATTLE SALE MOVED

Wm. Neufeld's sale of 48 T. B. free Jersey cattle, to be held Friday at 1 p.m., has been moved from the Fairbairn farm, Sharon, to Mrs. Brandt's farm, second concession, East Gwillimbury. This sale has been forced by the fire last fall.

NOTICE

The annual meeting of the Ping Orchard Cemetery Co. will be held in the church on Wednesday, Feb. 1, at 8 p.m. for the election of officers and transaction of general business. Elmer Starr, President, Fred Reid, Sec'y-treas.
